Social Security Law . . . Changes Further Explained

By JON POWERS

KINGSTON
Some of the more than 80 technical changes in the Social Security Law — many of which are responsible for higher benefits and, not coincidentally, higher weekly deductions — were explained by George Habernig, district manager of the Kingston Social Security Administration, during a luncheon address Tuesday before the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies.

Early July, Congress approved a 20 per cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits. Those currently receiving Social Security started receiving the extra benefits last week. Those still footing the bill started paying higher Social Security taxes at the same time.

According to Habernig, there were some 23,000 people in Ulster County who received Social Security benefits to the tune of $3 million in 1972. Both figures will be higher this year. The average Ulster County resident on Social Security currently receives $163 a month in benefits.

Among those most affected are widows, who have already begun to receive the added benefits. Habernig explained that widows are now eligible to receive 100 per cent of their deceased husband's benefits, compared to 82 per cent last year. If the widow is receiving her own Social Security payments each month, she can now choose whichever one is higher.

On the other hand, said Habernig, if a widow started receiving Social Security benefits before she was 65, she can't receive 100 per cent of her husband's benefits, but can still collect more than last year's 82 per cent figure.

In any event, widows should contact the Social Security Administration if they can collect more by receiving their husband's benefits.

In another change, any worker can now delay Social Security payments until age 72 and receive, as a result, seven per cent more than if he had started Social Security at 65.

Disabled workers, as well, will receive greater benefits under the new law. The waiting period has been reduced from seven to five months for the first Social Security check.

Habernig noted that persons under 65 can now receive Medicare coverage if they have received Social Security payments for a 24-month period.

Any disabled child under 22 can earn his parents additional Social Security benefits. Prior to this year, the cutoff age was 18.

Special

Medicare coverage, under the new law, is also available to persons suffering from kidney disease.

Another significant change in the Social Security Law, said Habernig, is the Supplemental Security Income, which has the federal government paying welfare costs for aged, disabled or blind applicants. Previously, the states administered that part of the welfare program.

"It was decided that the federal government could easier administer the program," Habernig explained. "Social Security is established nationwide, with over 1,000 offices. But it's still too soon to tell how much additional work will be required for us."

Habernig, however, said the new system should help to "remove the stigma" that is often attached to receiving welfare payments. "Now, a federal check will be mailed straight to the home," he explained.

Habernig emphasized that recipients are guaranteed to receive the highest benefits possible. For instance, the five lowest income years are eliminated, and the remaining years are averaged together to determine what benefits an applicant receives.

And, Habernig offered a statistic that may help soften the blow each time Social Security makes off with a sizeable chunk of each paycheck. He noted that if a worker earned the maximum wage allowable under the Social Security Law since the program was started in 1937, he would have paid $4,480 by now, with the employer paying an equal amount.

"You'll get your $4,480 back in no time," he said. In fact, if you receive the Ulster County monthly average of $163, you'll earn back that $4,480 in 27 months.

On the other hand, if a 21-year-old worker started paying Social Security today, by the time he reaches 65, he will have paid considerably more than $20,000 during that 44-year period. Younger workers can expect to bear more of the social security burden.

The maximum wage last year was $9,000. In other words, once a worker reached the $9,000 plateau, Social Security deductions stopped. This year, the maximum wage is $10,800; next year it will climb to $12,000. When Social Security started in 1937, the maximum was $3,000.

"Well," said Habernig, "somebody has to pay for all those improvements."

Now, if we can all hold out until we're 65 . . .

Paris Meeting: Report Hanoi Expects Impasse

PARIS (UPI) — Peace negotiators Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of North Vietnam met for the third time this week today. Both Kissinger and Tho smiled and looked relaxed, but there was no indication they had made progress toward ending the Vietnam war.

In Stockholm, the Swedish Broadcasting Corp. (SR) said today there were indications that Hanoi expects the Paris peace talks to break down and U.S. bombings to resume before the end of this week.

SR said Hanoi had requested the Stockholm Conference on Vietnam, an organization of writers, politicians and scientists from various countries critical of American policies in Vietnam, to send an international delegation of observers to the North Vietnamese capital in case the bombings were resumed.

Hanoi underlined that the delegation must arrive in Hanoi by next Saturday at the latest, the radio said.

"This may be interpreted as an indication that the North Vietnamese expect the talks to break down and the bombings to resume before the end of this week," an SR commentator said.

The French Communist newspaper Humanite quoted radio Hanoi as announcing the establishment of new anti-aircraft units around Hanoi and Haiphong. If so, this would correspond with a similar buildup of anti-aircraft facilities during a halt in U.S. bombing above the 20th parallel between Oct. 23 and Dec. 18.

The two sides started their meeting at 3 p.m. in a French Communist party villa in Gif-sur-Yvette, 13 miles south of Paris.

For the first time since the new round of bargaining started Monday, the two Communist negotiators smiled broadly and waved cheerfully to newsmen as their cars arrived at the heavily guarded villa.

Kissinger also dropped his previous grim look, and wore a broad smile.

As in the past two days the negotiators did not meet at the doorsteps to shake hands. Kissinger and his aides opened the door and walked inside the red-roofed, white-washed mansion without any formal welcome.

Neither side has been willing to characterize the two previous meetings this week during which Kissinger and Tho talked for 10½ hours. But the North Vietnamese Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan said Tuesday, "There is no sign allowing one to state that the talks might be fruitful. On the contrary, on the American side, there are emerging again indications auguring badly for the future."

The paper said that as late as Jan. 5 President Nixon repeated his determination to continue mining North Vietnamese ports and bombing the country. The paper promised that North Vietnam was "full of determination and energy so that if Nixon continues the war, we shall continue the struggle . . ."

The issue of whether South Vietnam and North Vietnam are two separate entities or parts of a single country is believed to be the major stumbling block which prevented a cease-fire agreement from being signed before Christmas. The North Vietnamese insist Vietnam is a single country and have refused to relent to an American demand for language in a peace agreement stating that "South Vietnam" is a sovereign state.

An additional touch of uncertainty over the future status of the Paris negotiation came when William J. Porter, head of the permanent negotiating mission, left for Washington to assume a high State Department post without any announcement of his immediate replacement.

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Command reported continuing heavy B52 and fighter-bomber strikes in the four provinces of the North Vietnamese panhandle.

A total of 45 B52 strikes that dropped about 1,200 tons of bombs and 140 fighter-bomber strikes were reported flown against North Vietnam during the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today.

An A6 fighter-bomber was shot down early today about 35 miles northwest of Vinh and the two crewmen are missing, the Command reported.

Vietnamese paratrooper division were aboard.

The South Vietnamese military command reported another round of Communist terrorist attacks had raised civilian casualties to more than 100 in South Vietnam in the past four days.

The Saigon command said a provincial capital and three district towns in the Mekong Delta new charges of "extermination" and a village northwest of Saigon were shelled during the night, with a total of nine civilians killed and 35 wounded. Radio Hanoi said B52 raids

And in Saigon, an explosive device ripped through a coffee shop near the Tan Son Nhut air base just before dawn, wounding three civilians, spokesmen said.

This brought civilians casualties from shelling and land mines reported since Sunday to 23 killed and 86 wounded.

Hanoi, meanwhile, broadcast new charges of "extermination" by U.S. B52s in the third of North Vietnam below the 20th parallel. Radio Hanoi said B52 raids

Monday on several residential areas "caused heavy losses to civilian life and property."

Hanoi also claimed that two B52s were shot down before dawn today in Nghe An province but made no mention of the crews.

The U.S. Command said it had no B52 losses to report.

Another Hanoi broadcast asserted that pro-Communist Cambodian forces have "liberated" nearly 85 per cent of Cambodia, including the most densely populated region west of Phnom Penh.

Slutsky Brothers Convicted

NEW YORK
Julius Slutsky, 60, and his brother Ben J. Slutsky, 63, owners of the Nevele Hotel and Country Club in Ellenville, were convicted Tuesday in U.S. District Court in New York on nine counts of federal income tax evasion.

The conviction came following a five-day trial before Judge Lloyd F. McMahon. A jury of five men and seven women deliberated for five and three quarter hours before returning a guilty verdict.

The brothers were found guilty of evading a total of $761,000 in federal income tax on an unreported income of $1.4 million for 1965 through 1967. Ben J. and Julius Slutsky were indicted Nov. 2 on charges of filing false partnership and individual tax returns for the three years.

The sentencing date was set for March 19 by Judge McMahon. Ben Slutsky faces a maximum of 25 years in prison and a fine of $50,000. His brother is faced with a maximum 20 years prison sentence and a $40,000 fine.

Ben Slutsky was found guilty on five counts, while his brother was convicted on the other four counts.

It was charged that Julius understated his personal income by $685,000. He allegedly reported $381,071 taxable income and $176,447 taxes due. The indictment said the returns should have shown $1,063,000 taxable income with $608,600 due.

Ben was charged with understating his personal income by approximately $700,000. He allegedly reported in joint personal returns $338,306 taxable income for the three years and $136,116 in taxes due. The indictment alleged that the actual taxable income was $1,065,000 and that $592,000 in taxes were due.

Attorneys for the Slutskys were Louis Bender and Moses Kove. The government's case was prosecuted by Assistant U.S. Attorneys John J. Tighe Jr. and Lawrence G. Feld.

Testimony also revealed that IRS agents were unable to account for $145,000 in hotel receipts.

The defense contended that the depositing of hotel money in personal accounts was not criminal tax evasion. The lawyers claimed that the Slutskys had the right to deposit the money in accounts of their choice and that they had reported all of their income.

Ulster County Supreme Court Justice John L. Larkin and District Attorney Francis J. Vogt testified on behalf of the Slutskys as character witnesses during the trial.

Suspected 'Dealers' in Custody

Boy, 12, 'Had This Thing'

Tale of the Wayward Buses

SHOKAN
For three hours early today, a squad of somewhat bemused police officers "chased" a big, yellow school bus on a winding, errant path that covered 80 miles of Ulster County countryside.

It was nothing as wild as an old "Keystone Cops" episode, however. Just refer to it as "The Unstoppable School Bus Caper."

The star was a 12-year-old West Hurley boy, unidentified because of his age, who police say has pulled this same trick in the past, but with less spectacular results. He has a date in Family Court later today for his trouble.

It all started sometime before midnight when, according to police, the youth stole a 40-passenger school bus from the parking lot at the Ontario Central School in Boiceville. He apparently started the vehicle by jumping the ignition wires, then climbed into the front seat and drove toward Shokan.

When he reached Shokan, police said, the boy pulled into the R.J.W. School Bus Transit Co. parking lot and repeated the procedure with another full-size bus. He took that one for a 20-mile "test drive" before returning to Shokan a second time.

Troopers figure the boy finally settled on a bus he liked. He started the third bus and, according to police, headed out Route 28-A through the Town of Olive.

This is where all the fun began. Trooper Richard M. Sparrow spotted the bus a few miles from Shokan, figured it was a little early for the bus to be making its daily rounds (It was about 1 a.m.) so he tried to flag the bus to the side of the road.

The youth apparently wasn't ready to let a good thing end so quickly. Trooper Sparrow told The Freeman that each time he pulled alongside the bus, the big vehicle swerved to the left and forced the squad car off the road.

From Route 28-A in Shokan, the bus traveled around the Ashokan Reservoir, past the aerators and pump station, back onto Route 28-A to Route 213 through Olivebridge, south on Route 213 to Stone Ridge, north on Route 209 past the State Police barracks in Hurley, Route 9W in Lake Katrine, down Ulster Avenue Mall and Boice's Lane to IBM, back onto Route 209 to Route 9W again, and again on Ulster Avenue Mall and Albany Avenue a.m. today. When the bus through Kingston to Chandler Drive, around the Thruway traffic circle and west on Route 28 to West Hurley. The bus turned into Wall Street in West Hurley and stopped a few blocks later.

Sparrow said the boy became a little too enthusiastic in the West Shokan area, where he reportedly ran a police roadblock.

At one point, the bus was accompanied on its merry way by six squad cars from State Police barracks in Hurley, Highland and Ellenville, the Ulster County Sheriff's Department and city police. Several drove ahead of the bus and cleared the way for the determined driver.

The final curtain on this nighttime drama closed at 4 a.m. today. When the bus finally stopped in West Hurley, it took police just a few seconds to climb inside. They found the boy sound asleep at the wheel.

Arlington High Drug Case ...Arrest Total Now at Nine

FREEDOM PLAINS, N. Y. — The arrest of three teenagers Tuesday brought to nine the number of high school pupils charged with felony sale of dangerous drugs since four pupils suffered drug overdoses last week at Arlington High School, a spokesman for the Dutchess County sheriff's department said. Undersheriff Charles Borchers said he was "amazed at the availability" of drugs in Freedom Plains, which is located east of the city of Poughkeepsie. However, Rafael Mark, chairman of the county Narcotics Guidance Council, said, "Of the 3,000 or so students at the high school, about 1,000 are using drugs in one form or another."

One of the girls was reported in satisfactory condition Tuesday at Vassar Brothers Hospital in Poughkeepsie. The others had been treated and released.

The suspects, including a 13-year-old girl, were all charged with second degree criminal sale of dangerous drugs. Authorities said all were eligible for juvenile offender status.

Mark said, "Drugs are readily available to everybody via the medicine chest and trading. Sopors, a form of depressant, have been a fairly widespread pill in this area for about a year. It was brought to our attention, now, only because these four kids overdosed."

Borchers said of the source of the drug: "The indication is that it is being produced locally in a clandestine laboratory."

Mark said however, soporific drugs are made by at least five pharmaceutical companies and "are readily available in any drug store if you have a doctor's prescription."

KERHONKSON Positive identification has now been made of all seven bodies found in the charred remains of the employees' residence at the Pine Grove Resort Ranch, according to Ulster County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp.

"All have been identified to my satisfaction," Chipp told The Freeman today.

The last body identified was that of Bonnie Lensky, 16, of Brooklyn. The six others were Samuel Floyd Winder, 24, of Wawarsing; A. Mary Censor, 15, Eileen Sondra Phillips, 16, and Maria Seligson, 14, all of Brooklyn; Gerold Ladenhauf, 17, of the Bronx; and Bonnie D. Moskowitz, 18, of Flushing.

Chipp ruled death in all seven cases to be accidental, due to asphyxia from smoke and fire inhalation. He said the time of death was established to be 5:40 a.m. Saturday.

Meanwhile, a damage estimate of $100,000 has been placed on the fire which destroyed the three-story, 24-room employees' quarters early Saturday.

No final judgment has yet been made as to the cause of the tragic blaze, which also resulted in 14 injuries, according to Senior BCI Investigator Donald P. Trotta of the Ellenville State Police, who is in charge of the continuing investigation.

Approximately 90 people have been interviewed by State Police Investigators to date regarding the blaze. Trotta told The Freeman today.

The cause of the fire is still tentatively connected with one of two recently installed petroleum gas heaters in the employees' residence. "The main force of the fire was in the vicinity of a second floor heater," Trotta told The Freeman Tuesday.

It has not yet been established exactly when the heaters were installed. Trotta explained today. They were less than a year old, he said.

Two persons injured in the blaze are now on the critical list at Albany Medical Center. They are Azeal Quinones, 22, and Lawrence Mills, 26, both of the Bronx. Both are in the burn treatment facility at the hospital, and both are listed in serious condition on the critical list, according to a hospital spokesman.

Seven others remain hospitalized at the Ellenville Community and Kingston Hospitals. None are in critical condition.

Credit for Crime, Drug Addiction Attacks

State Politicians Jumping In

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gain-bargaining. Specifics in bill ing credit for mounting an ef- fective attack against crime. It continued with praise and and drug addiction has skepticism from an array of emerged as the chief concern public figures, including dis- of New York politicians so far pleased judges who feared a in the young legislative season. disabling flood of new felony It started with Gov. Nelson trials in the courts. A Rockefeller's call last week And it took on a decidedly partisan hue Tuesday when for hard drug pushers with no Deputy Assembly Minority possibility of parole or plea Leader Albert H. Blumenthal.

D-Manhattan, characterized the governor's recommendations as "hysterical legislative propos- als." The Republican legislative eaders, meanwhile, were awaiting the chance to study the black-and-white specifics before committing themselves to go down the line with the governor. Both the Assembly and the State Senate closed up shop for the week after going through the motions of meeting. When they return Monday, they'll have to consider legisla- tion proposed by the Tempo- rary State Commission to Eval- uate the Drug Laws that would ban job discrimination against rehabilitated addicts. On a loftier subject, they can decide whether more state aid to the arts is desirable. Several artists asked for more support in appearances Tuesday before the state commission on cultural institutions.

The political nature of the crime-drugs issue was clearly crystallized in the Rockefeller- Blumenthal hubbub.

The assemblyman, a liberal reformer who has worked well with the governor and the legis- lative leaders, recited what he said was Rockefeller's costly failure to stem the growth of drug addiction—from 25,000 to 250,000 narcotics users in six years, he said.

"He's just opening his cam- paign for mayor," a Rockefel- ler spokesman commented.

The Manhattan legislator said he was attacking the governor because he just doesn't believe harsh sentencing by itself will help. He said Rockefeller was sensitive about his inability to deal effectively with the drug plague and he "threw a public temper tantrum."

Blumenthal saw unfairness and unconstitutionality in the governor's proposals to give teen-age pushers life terms with a chance for parole only after 15 years and his inclusion of addicts who commit serious crimes in the mandatory life sentence-no parole category.

"It will not stop the mug- gings," he said. "It will not make our streets safe."

Blumenthal said addicts should be registered and given mandatory treatment, prefera- bly with methadone. But he contended that the problem had to be dealt with in the context of a complete overhaul of the criminal justice system.

Reformed prisons, reformed courts to the tune of $165 mil- lion, $50 million in state aid to local police forces, a City In- vestigation Commission in New York City, and "tough, realis- tic" court treatment of repeat felony offenders were among the items he proposed for enactment.

In one form or another, these ideas have appeared before— from the Democrats as a party, from Mayor John V. Lindsay, from Rockefeller himself.

What remains to be seen is whether the governor and the legislative leaders can get to- gether and forge agreement on large-scale reforms going be- yond the ticklish subject of sen- tencing. Should that finally hap- pen, there should be enough po- litical merit badges to go around.

LUNCH PERIOD — Two of the "Watergate Seven," Frank Sturgis (L) and Virgilio R. Gonzales, spent part of their lunch period Tuesday sitting in the inaugural parade stands along Pennsylvania Avenue. The controversial trial entered its third day, with attorneys making opening statements be- fore the jury of eight women and four men. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Dead Sniper... Black Militant

MARK ESSEX
... at age 5
(UPI Telephoto)

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Mark James Robert Essex, 23, who mowed lawns and attended church during his peaceful childhood on the Kansas plains, had become an embittered, hating, black militant when machine gun bullets this week ended his sniping spree atop a downtown hotel.

"He told me he thought Christianity was white man's religion," said the Rev. W. A. Chambers, Essex' hometown pastor at the St. James Baptist Church in Emporia, Kan.

"He had turned militant and he had a very severe hatred for white people. Something proba- bly happened in the Navy to cause it."

Police this week traced Essex' journey from his Navy discharge Feb. 10, 1971, be- cause of "unsuitability," to a short period in Emporia and finally his move to New Orleans last summer.

It was the trail of a young man gradually growing embittered, and it ended Sunday night when Essex dashed across the roof of the downtown Howard Johnson Hotel, holding his rifle in a firing position, and was cut down by machine guns aboard a Marine helicopter.

Essex, perhaps with one or two companions, early Sunday set fires throughout the hotel, wounded one fireman, and then, on the way to the roof, killed a couple on their second honey- moon and an assistant hotel manager. On the roof, three policemen who rushed the rooftop stronghold were shot and killed.

In addition to the six dead, 20 other persons were wounded, injured or disabled by sniper fire or police crossfire in the efforts to drive the sniper—or snipers—from the roof. Police secured the roof Monday afternoon, and found no other sniper there, only Essex' torn body lying where it fell Sunday night.

The contention—which weakened somewhat Tuesday—that more than one sniper was involved caused the local chapter of the National Associa- tion for the Advancement of Colored People to protest claims a conspiracy was involved.

"It has become the tendency of the authorities of the state and city to feel that every time that a black person is involved in some type of activity which costs lives or in other words disrupts the community that they're engaged in a con- spiracy," NAACP Field Direc- tor Harvey Britton said.

Police Superintendent Clar- ence Giarrusso said "police are at odds whether there was one or two (snipers). For one, there was one person found and the men (police) insist no one passed through their lines."

"After having a night's sleep, I cannot say yes or no. We have evidence that would reaffirm both conclusions."

Two Sealed Gambling Indictments

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A long investigation into local gambling operations and their infiltration by New York City mob interests has produced its first indictments—one of them against a lawyer whose father is an Albany political leader.

Two sealed indictments re- turned by an Albany County grand jury and announced by County Dist. Atty. Arnold Proskin Tuesday charged three Al- bany area residents with third- degree grand larceny by ex- tortion.

At the same time, Proskin said he had filed a prosecutor's information charging two Brooklyn men—Salvatore "Sally Boy" Mangiameli, 43, a re- puted ally of underworld boss Joseph Colombo, and Andrew "Chubby" D'Apice, 44—and Al- bany gambling operator Sey- mour Sher of conspiring to set up a gambling ring in this area.

One indictment accused Charles W. Ryan Jr., 38, and George J. Woods, 38, both of Albany, of extorting $1,000 and a complete list of numbers-run- ners from an Albany gambling triumvirate of Sher, George Tutunjan and Charles H. Craw- ford.

In the second indictment, the 37-year-old Crawford, a resi- dent of nearby Guiderland, was accused of having in turn extorted $300 from Sher and Tutunjan to pay off an Albany policeman for protection. Be- cause of insufficient evidence, Proskin said, the unidentified policeman was not indicted.

The various extortion de- mands allegedly were made in June and July 1971, soon after Sher, D'Apice and Mangiameli purportedly entered into an agreement to finance and op- erate a gambling enterprise in Albany.

Ryan, the son of Albany County Democratic Treasurer

Charles W. Ryan, was ar- raigned Tuesday and released in his own recognizance. Crawford had been taken into custo- dy. Proskin said, and was awaiting arraignment, while Woods was being sought in South Carolina.

Sher has been tried and con- victed in two gambling cases in the Albany area recently, one with D'Apice as codefendant and the other with Crawford.

In a Greene County extortion case, Sher and D'Apice were given probation for their con- victions on various charges. During the trial, the prose- cution said that D'Apice, who supposedly told Sher he needed a "godfather," provided New York City "muscle" in a plot to extort $15,000 from a Kingston man who had fallen $12,000 be- hind in repaying gambling debts to Sher.

In an Albany County trial, Sher was convicted of posses- sion of gambling records and was sentenced to three years in prison. He is currently out on bail pending appeal. Crawford has yet to face trial on a sim- ilar charge in that case.

Warrants have been issued for Mangiameli, D'Apice and Sher in connection with the misdemeanor first-degree con- spiracy charges, Proskin said.

"These indictments and ar- rests are only the first state of our continuing investigation and probe into corruption in Al- bany County," Proskin said, adding that the indictments were based largely on tele- phone wiretap recordings made by members of the state's Or- ganized Crime Task Force.

He said his office's investiga- tion has been conducted inde- pendently of the State Investi- gation Commission's current probe of possible corruption in the Albany Police Department, an investigation that may lead to public hearings sometime early this year.

Kingston and Ulster at Odds Over Trash Problem

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON

The city of Kingston and the Town of Ulster, which had their differences two years ago over garbage, seem to be at odds again, this time over trash.

The Town of Ulster is threatening to prohibit private refuse collectors from dumping trash (collected in the city) at the town dump off Route 9W. The amount collected, according to figures from the city has left the door to the landfill open for the dumping of trash, but so far has insisted that deliveries be made in open trucks, not the container trucks now in use by the contractors.

The city's reasoning is that "open trucks" would be easier to inspect just in case there is any garbage among the trash. "With those container trucks you don't know what's in them until its on the ground," Cole says.

Town of Ulster Supervisor Carmine Sabino says the town isn't "banning" Hayes and Elliot per se, but points out that town ordinances allow only for the dumping of refuse collected in the town at the town dump. Sabino admits, however, that the ordinance hasn't been enforced, "nobody really checks up on it."

Sabino agrees with the regional approach to refuse disposal but also says that "we're going to have to do it differently then we have been," meaning compacting or shredding. As for location of a regional landfill, Sabino says, "We should take the broad view of it, keeping our minds and our eyes open." Sabino says the town's landfill should be good for another five years, but that "we're going to have to get to work (on solving the problem) long before that."

Mayor Koenig also thinks the problem extends beyond the limits of Kingston and the Town of Ulster and is attempting to arrange a meeting with officials from the towns of Kingston, Hurley and Esopus sometime this week to discuss the problem. "We all have the same problems," observes Koenig an observation made more than two years ago in an engineering report published by the County Planning Department on solid waste disposal in Ulster County.

Special

Department of Public Works, is considerable, some 35 tons a day most of it from business establishments and restaurants in Kingston.

The two biggest trash collectors, Edgar Elliot of the Town of Ulster and Wesley and William Hayes of Port Ewen, faced with a loss of their Town of Ulster dump sites, want to dump at the city landfill at Kingston Point.

Reduced to its simplest terms, the problem seems to be "the city doesn't want the city stuff hauled down there (the landfill) and the town doesn't want the city stuff hauled out there."

Several private meetings have been held in Mayor Francis R. Koenig's office between Elliot, the Hayes's, Koenig and Charles J. Cole, superintendent of public works.

Another key factor in the discussion is that the city differentiates between "trash" and "garbage." "Garbage" to the city, is organic waste and as such is strictly forbidden at the landfill.

The city, in its discussions with the out of town trashmen,

That report also stated that the landfill at Kingston Point would be depleted (filled up) by mid-1972. The city dumps about 60 tons a day into its landfill. Cole, by raising the level of the landfill higher and higher ("everytime you go up a course, you lose potentially usable land," he says), predicts that "sometime the middle of this summer, I will have reached our optimum elevation." After that, Cole says, the land reuse factor rapidly decreases. "Eventually we'd get to the point where all we'd have would be a hill. That happened out in Michigan. They called it Mount Trashmore and used it for a ski slope." Cole said. The city had had plans to build a recreation area on top of its landfill once it was depleted.

Koenig is hoping that some kind of agreements, at least on a short term basis, will evolve from meetings with officials from the surrounding towns.

Savago Names 'Power' Group

KINGSTON

Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County Legislature, has announced the names of those who will serve on the Ulster County Temporary Manpower Council this year.

The Manpower Council administers Ulster County's Public Employment Program, which is fully funded by the federal government. The administrator is Robert C. (Josh) Randall.

Reappointed to the committee were: Dr. Gerald P. Gorman (D-City), Minority Leader of the County Legislature; Frank Greco, executive secretary of the Ulster County Civil Service Department; Herbert Heckler, director of the Ulster County Planning Board; Albert J. Cawein, Ulster County Director of Public Relations; Fred H. DuBois, County Treasurer; Bernhard S. Kramer, Ulster County Commissioner of Social Services; Jose Camallonga Jr., Superintendent of the Ulster County Highway Department and Savago.

Ernest J. Gardner (R-Dist. 11), Majority Leader of the Ulster County Legislature, was appointed to succeed Saugerties legislator — Clifford W. Snyder, who resigned as Majority Leader this year.

Legislature Gets Owners' Petition

KINGSTON

Fifty-one property owners from the Towns of Lloyd and Plattekill have filed a petition with the Ulster County Legislature requesting creation of a 5,000 acre agricultural district in that area.

The application is now under review by the Agricultural Advisory Committee of the Ulster County Legislature, as well as the Ulster County Planning Board. Their recommendations will initiate the setting of a public hearing date by the County Legislature.

The fifty-one property owners who filed the petition own a total of 3,317 acres of farm land in the Southern Ulster area.

The Agricultural District Law was established in 1970. Its purpose is to protect and enhance agricultural lands as a viable segment of the state's economy, and as an economic and environmental resource of major importance.

Supporters of the measure intend it to protect agricultural lands from the unchecked expansion of urban areas.

Ulster County formed its first agricultural district — in the Milton area — last fall.

Vols to Honor Past Presidents

SAUGERTIES

The Annual Past President's Dinner of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Jan. 20 at the Flamingo Restaurant, Route 9W, Saugerties, according to announcement by dinner co-chairman Robert Darling of Catskill and Donald McCaig of Saugerties.

The affair will honor all past presidents of the Hudson Valley association and, in particular, immediate past president Andrew T. Pomarico of Beacon.

The past president's dinner was started by the Hudson Valley association several years ago to show recognition to the men who have led the association, and also to give members the opportunity to gather between conventions.

Past presidents of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association who are known to be alive include: R.S. York of Monticello, 1936; Charles M. Fales of Haverstraw, 1941; Charles Turner of New Paltz, 1945; LeRoy Gates of Nyack, 1946; Vincent Grady of Beacon, 1948; Paul Fisher of Hudson Falls, 1950; Percy VanLeuven of Goshen, 1951; Bennett D. Feller of Red Hook, 1953; Alvin Beatty of New Paltz, 1957; Ralph M. Flynn of Beacon, 1960; Colin Jackson Sr. of Newburgh, 1962; Lawrence E. Cooke of Monticello, 1963; Elliott H. Harris of Hudson Falls, 1964; Joseph E. Gnecchi of Monroe, 1967; George E. Daley of Glens Falls, 1968; Charles E. Lounsbury of Carmel, 1969; Carl L. Pincheon of Hudson Falls, 1970; George B. Babcock of New Windsor, 1971 and Andrew T. Pomarico of Beacon, 1972.

City Home Is Damaged

KINGSTON

Fire and smoke damaged a home at 242 East Chester Street, Kingston shortly after noon Tuesday.

Firemen from Engine One and Tract One companies responded to a box alarm at 12:58 p.m. after fire broke out in the kitchen of the two-story frame house, owned and occupied by Mrs. Edward Sanford.

Peter Kearney, an employee of the Kingston Recreation Department, told firemen he was driving past when he saw heavy smoke coming from the house. After telling a passing motorist to pull the alarm box, Kearney reportedly went into the house and partially extinguished the fire with a spray hose from the kitchen sink before firemen arrived.

The fire damaged a cabinet, door, door frame, one wall and a portion of the kitchen floor before it was extinguished, and smoke damage was extensive throughout the house, firemen said.

The probable cause was listed as a discarded lighted cigarette thrown into a trash container in the kitchen, firemen said.

Sermon's Title

Editor, The Freeman:

As I opened The Freeman of Friday, Jan. 5, 1973, I read the ad on the bottom of page 2. I had to look twice to realize I was here in America and not in Nazi Germany. Is this the "Brotherhood" we are trying to teach our children? Are we in America, the land of the free, going to permit such freedom of the press?

Perhaps President Nixon is right in curtailing some of the freedoms newspapers have.

We Jews are well aware of the recent increase of evangelist fever in this country.

Jesus was never a Christian and as a Jew expounded mainly a Jewish message. Only later did his followers begin to preach what is now described as essentially Christian.

Why is it everyone is out to destroy the Jew? Why can't people live and let others live? Christians should reach out and make better Christians of their own flocks before looking elsewhere.

Why do our children have to read such shocking things published by their local paper and sponsored by a church group.

ANN HOROWITZ
Kingston, N.Y.

Sermon's Title

Editor, The Freeman:

I was shocked to read in an advertisement on the Church Page of Friday, January 5, 1973, a sermon title from an area church entitled, "How to Destroy the Jew."

In a century which has witnessed the horror of Hitler's genocide of the Jewish people, and the extermination camps of Dachau and Buchenwald, we do not need a title like this. It is in extremely bad taste, to put it mildly.

Greater discretion should be employed by churches in publishing such a title, and by The Freeman in permitting it to be printed.

I do not think we should go to church to hear "How to Destroy the Jew" no matter how this title was meant by the pastor of the church printing it.

With grave concern,
REV. RANDALL B. BOSCH
Pastor, Fair Street Church

The Explanation

Editor, The Freeman:

In relation to the subject and scripture found in our Church Ad Friday, which was read and explained on the Radio Broadcast Sunday, let me say that I did not intend this to be sensational or Anti-Semitic, but evidently it became both. To the Jewish community I therefore wish to apologize for the concern caused by our Church Ad.

Had the Scripture been read and the broadcast listened to, all would have understood that the Word of God declares that this Nation is an eternal nation that cannot be destroyed, a promise that cannot be claimed by any other nation. This conclusion is arrived at by reading Jeremiah 31: 35-37, which indicates that if you can make the sun, the moon and the stars to depart from before the Lord, then the seed of Israel will cease from being a nation; or, if you can measure the heavens above or search out the foundations of the earth beneath, the Lord says, "Then He will cast off the seed of Israel." This cannot be done so this nation cannot be destroyed. I had illustrated this fact by pointing out that six million Jews were slain by Hitler, yet within five years following these atrocities in May of 1948 the Jews proclaimed the establishment of a sovereign Jewish State, was recognized by the nations of the world, and the nation Israel was admitted to United Nations membership on May 11, 1949. For twenty-five hundred years they had not been so recognized.

To Abraham the Lord Jehovah said, "I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed."

The Psalmist David exhorts us to "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee."

We are grateful for this nation, their prophetic past, their present position in world affairs and their future prospects. Thank you for permitting me this opportunity of explanation and again my apologies for the concern caused by our Ad.

Sincerely,

Town of Rochester and the County of Ulster, have been governed by one man rule.

Laws and Resolutions passed upon by our two governing bodies follow the directions of the leader. We are dominated by Rubber Stamp Legislators and Town Board members. Politics, not the will of the people is the main issue. I, along with many others, am tired of getting the feathers while our noble lawmakers carve the turkey among themselves. They will not even allow us a little soup or throw us a small bone. The partiality and favoritism displayed is downright disgusting and disgraceful. Raises, appointments and permits are given discriminatorily. The right to speak and to be heard has been denied the honest and taxpaying citizen as well as have funds for Meals on Wheels, our libraries and last but not least the Resolution to the P.S.C. regarding Telephone increases, which will reach further into our pockets. Our County and my Town should be draped in Black Crepe as we are in a period of mourning and so shall remain until the rumble of our ballots develops into a storm of protest and the Thunder from the Ballot Boxes will reverberate throughout the area.

I now resolve that during the ensuing year 'I will do all within my ability to correct the errors of our present regimes. I urge my friends and fellow citizens to band together to nominate and to elect a slate of candidates that will pursue the issues and truly represent and govern us in a fair, humane and sincere manner so that we may attain our goal. To regain our stature as a community and a County reminiscent of the days of our ancestors.

The time to start is now. Hesitation develops into apathy and/or chaos. With a strong foundation we can achieve the good representative type of government we deserve.

Thank you.

Town should be draped in Black Crepe as we are in a period of mourning and so shall remain until the rumble of our ballots develops into a storm of protest and the Thunder from the Ballot Boxes will reverberate throughout the area.

I now resolve that during the ensuing year 'I will do all within my ability to correct the errors of our present regimes. I urge my friends and fellow citizens to band together to nominate and to elect a slate of candidates that will pursue the issues and truly represent and govern us in a fair, humane and sincere manner so that we may attain our goal. To regain our stature as a community and a County reminiscent of the days of our ancestors.

The time to start is now. Hesitation develops into apathy and/or chaos. With a strong foundation we can achieve the good representative type of government we deserve.

Thank you.

Drive for Reform

The assembling of the 93rd Congress, with its younger, more activist members of both parties, presages a drive for more power for the legislature. Reform is the immediate aim, but power for Congress is the base, which may line up a bi-party backing that can give the administration real trouble throughout the two sessions of this Congress.

Intensely involved in the resumption of the peace talks in Paris, President Nixon has indicated that it may be a week or so after the inauguration of January 20 before he delivers his State of the Nation Message, an understandable request under the circumstances. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield replied in these partisan terms: "We don't intend to spend three and a half weeks spinning our wheels, waiting for the President to outline his program. We'll be ready to dig in the first of next week."

Mansfield is reflecting the concern of many members over the erosion of Congressional power and the ever-growing power of the White House. And he is interpreting the vote last November, which returned a Democratic majority in both houses while giving the President a landslide victory, as a mandate for Congress to assert itself.

"The people want that power restored, and we're going to do it," Mansfield proudly asserted. He did not see the ticket-splitting, which kept the power divided as a popular feeling to continue the balance of power. He is likely to feel popular reaction in the next Congressional election if he and like-minded Congressmen go too far in this power game.

For instance, Senator J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, grudgingly says he is willing to wait until the inauguration before getting into the problem. That would give the President just 12 days to reach an agreement with Hanoi, which means hamstringing him and his negotiator, Henry Kissinger, at the start. The House Democratic caucus went further and voted 2 to 1 to cut off funds for the war. This is not asserting legislative power. It is hampering the achievement of peace.

Trade Gap Widens

Americans can't resist buying foreign-made goods. Their preference for imports boosted the nation's trade deficit last month to the worst it had been since June. For the year through November, seasonally adjusted imports ran at a $55.13 billion annual rate, 21 per cent ahead of the entire 1971 total of $45.56 billion. While exports of $48.77 billion exceeded the $43.54 billion 1971 exports, by 12 per cent, it was not high enough.

Imports for Christmas shopping no doubt played a large part in the trade deficit, but in November there was a larger than usual expenditure for machinery and transportation equipment. This contributed to the gap, the biggest in United States history.

At the same time, the Commerce Department's index of leading economic indicators revealed advancement. The index, which often shows significant business trends, improved. It rose 1.9 per cent in November to 150.4 per cent. The base of 100 is for 1967. "The sustained uptrend in the index reinforces the generally accepted view that the economy will continue to expand rapidly in 1973," noted Harold C. Passer, assistant Secretary of Commerce for economic affairs.

If only the balance of trade would also improve. The exporters are making records. They can do more, and no doubt will, but consumers must also do their part. We're not saying buy American, but be sparing in buying foreign-made goods, when American goods are competitive.

FLOUNDERING POPULATION —

The United States' population at the new year is 210,194,312, a gain of 1.6 million persons in 1972. This compares with 2 million gained in 1971, and 2.2 million in 1970. At this rate, we are likely to reach zero growth during the present decade.

SHULTZ'S PREDICTION —

Secretary of Treasury George P. Shultz is bullish on the United States. His prediction for 1973: "I expect a good year for the American economy. That is, a year with rising output, rising employment and general prosperity." Economically, we can't ask for anything more.

WASHINGTON — Former Interior Secretary Walter Hickel, who got in trouble with President Nixon for criticizing his policies, is still as blunt as ever about giving the President his advice. In public, Hickel has turned to praising the President. But in private, Hickel politely reiterated his former criticism when he sat down with the President on September 13 for an hour-long private conversation.

A source privy to the conversation quotes Hickel as telling the President to his face: "All over the country people are raising the same question — why is the President spending so much time on Vietnam when there are so many problems at home. Our cities are in desperate shape. They need your help." What was the President's reaction to Hickel's criticism?

When we asked Hickel, he had little comment. "The President was very receptive and cordial. That's all I can say," he replied.

Hickel, meanwhile, is considering a proposal to head a group of Alaskan businessmen on a trade trip to China later this year. This has stirred talk that he might like to become the first American Ambassador to Communist China. But Alaska Democrats suspect he is merely getting ready to run against Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, for his Senate seat in 1974.

Shuster's Shenanigans

Our revelations of kickbacks and Bobby Bakerism led Rep. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., to give up his House seat last year. Now his successor, Rep. Elmer "Bud" Shuster, R-Pa., has arrived in Washington with $23 million in civil claims against him.

My associate Stuart Madden has spent several days investigating the charges against Shuster. These involve alleged stock shenanigans in Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Wyoming and Washington, D.C.

Shuster, a financial whiz kid who holds a doctor's degree in business, became a vice president of the giant RCA at age 34. In 1968, he was called in to save the floundering Datel Corp. Datel records show that their book deficit was $724,905 when Shuster's management team took over in June, 1968. By the end of the year, the deficit had tripled to $2,176,473.

Nevertheless, the Datel directors, without telling the stockholders, contrived to sell Datel to Data Products, a California firm, for $3.5 million. But Data Products chief Irwin Tomash was dubious. He wrote to Shuster in a confidential January 6, 1969, letter about "Datel's short history, lack of audited records, significant negative cash flow, etc."

At one point, Shuster sold a huge block of stock in a computer company to Datel for $10 a share. We have seen audited financial statements, which claim the stock was worth less than 50 cents a share. Shuster's own auditors declared: "We have been unable to satisfy ourselves as to whether the transactions have been accounted for in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles."

Other suits have also been filed against the new Congressman accusing him of misrepresentation and conspiracy to defraud. Not the least of the plaintiffs is the powerful Mellon interests of Pittsburgh.

Shuster tells us the several lawsuits are "absurd." He has never been guilty, he says, of anything more serious than a traffic violation. Upon his election to Congress, he divested himself of all his stock holdings and now owns only his farm in Bedford County, Pa., he claims.

Intelligence Items

BOMBING OUTRAGE — Secret diplomatic reports have been pouring into the State Department from all over the world, describing the outrage over the saturation bombing of North Vietnam. No event in modern times has been so damaging to U.S. prestige. Danish and Swedish diplomats, according to the secret reports, warned of a diplomatic break unless the U.S. stopped the massive raids. The reactions were far worse, apparently, than President Nixon anticipated — and, of course, worse than the public has been told.

TOO MANY PLANES — In anticipation of a cease-fire freeze on military shipments, the U.S. has delivered more planes and helicopters to South Vietnam than there are pilots to fly them. The training programs aren't producing pilots fast enough. One problem is the language barrier. It takes a working knowledge of English for the South Vietnamese to fly American planes. The student pilots are shuffled through English courses and handed diplomas without learning the language. Later, many wash out of flying school because of the language problem.

Princeton Not Revisited

WASHINGTON — The scene was the campus of Princeton University and one of those conferences of international intellectuals. The seminar was called "The United States: Its Problems, Impact and Image in the World."

The dinner audience on the night of Dec. 4, 1968, applauded the guest speaker, who had just accepted an appointment from the President-elect. The speech was unpublicized at the time.

"My primary responsibility, as I see it," said Henry A. Kissinger, "is to make sure that every responsible point of view — and responsible is defined in a very generous manner — that every responsible point of view gets a fair hearing."

"I want to say now," said the Harvard don, confronting his peers, "that it is in providing this spectrum of considerations and hearing every point of view of significance that I would want the success of my efforts to be judged."

"The great danger of war seems to me not to lie in the deliberate actions of wicked men but in the inability of harassed men to manage events that have run away with them," he continued.

Speaking with a doomed foresight as poignant as the ruins of Back Mai Hospital in Hanoi, he said, "When the scope for action is at a minimum. When the knowledge is greatest, the scope for creative action has often disappeared. . . . I am trying to say that whether one acts or doesn't act depends on some moral or philosophical judgment as well as on judgments of fact."

His moral and philosophical judgment led him to the White House, Kissinger added. "Now these are some of the concerns which have led me to accept the offer of the President-elect. He has insisted that he wanted to hear every point of view, that he wanted to make sure that the best talent in the country, whether or not it agreed with pronouncements he made in the past, would receive a hearing."

"And I can tell you, speaking for myself as well as for the President-elect, that every effort will be made to give the best talent in the country an opportunity to present their views."

"Many of you have worked with me for many years and you know what I have stood for and you know, I hope, that I will continue to stand for no matter what my position is."

To all those people who called him "Henry" — John Kenneth Galbraith, Arthur Schlesinger, Martin Peretz, George Bell, Robert Manning, Charles Mathias — Kissinger pledged that "the doors of my office are open to your ideas to invite you to share them with me."

Four years later Kissinger refused to share ideas with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. According to several reliable accounts, President Nixon didn't heed "the best talent" in the Joint Chiefs of Staff, never mind the best talent in the country.

Four Decembers ago Kissinger spoke humbly at Princeton about "what I conceive to be my role in the policy-making process." This December, as American bombs were falling over North Vietnam, Kissinger was in Palm Springs, Calif., vacationing.

He stayed at the mansion of a movie producer, Bob Evans, ex-husband of actress Ali MacGraw far away from Princeton seminars and Harvard classrooms.

From Princeton to Palm Springs, Henry Kissinger presses on, searching for "the best talent in the country" and "every responsible point of view" on which "I would want the success of my efforts to be judged."

Clifford Irving Sings the Blues

The world was stunned to learn that Clifford Irving, convicted literary thief, has quit smoking. This, for mankind, is one long step forward. When the parole board meets in May, it should be drawn to the attention of the members that Mr. Irving quit cold.

The slender 42-year-old writer is serving two-and-a-half years in a lovely brick building known to the feds as the Allenwood Prison Farm. It is situated near the edge of the Susquehanna River in the cool, clear Appalachian Mountains of Pennsylvania. A healthy place.

Clifford Irving, you will recall, bilked a book publisher and the late Life magazine of $750,000 by promising a hot biography of that rich, secretive ghost, Howard Hughes. With the connivance of Mrs. Irving, the money ended in a Swiss bank account.

Mrs. Irving faces trial in Switzerland. Her husband is in regal residence at the farm.

His writer collaborator served a little time in a New York "can" and compared it to "Dachau."

Clifford Irving is a mover; not a writer in my estimation, but a mover. While he was waiting to be sent to the health farm, he wrote a book telling how he squirreled all that money out of McGraw-Hill and Life. Sadly, it didn't sell well.

Now, of course, he is writing notes for another book about what it is like to serve time. Sheila Moran, a reporter, traveled to his abode to find out how the author is making out. The answer, in a word, is awful. "He slipped off the Navy pea jacket he was wearing over his prison khakis and stretched his athletic frame on one of the orange vinyl cushioned, chrome-plated chairs. . . . He is the resident celebrity."

When he arrived, people wanted his autograph. A woman asked him to sign the cast on her broken arm. "To some of the guards, or 'hacks,' he is a 'hot item.' That's fame. Four copies of his book, "What Really Happened," are in the prison library, but Irving is modest.

The most widely read publication, he said, is "The Wall Street Journal." "A lot of guys have heavy investments." He works in the commissary, where a prisoner can buy cigarettes, Chiclets and shaving cream. He minds the store, but is piqued because he is not allowed to touch the supplies unless the civilian supervisor is present.

"They make you feel like a criminal 24 hours a day," he moaned. "All they teach you in here is paranoia and insecurity." I doubt that anyone would have to teach those things to Clifford Irving. He is the man who, when he was nabbed, protested that he and his wife planned to give the money back to the publishers if he was caught.

This is a philosophy which all bank robbers should have tattooed on their chests. "It's hard to remember what it was like to be free," Irving says. "I had no choice but to make it. You have to when you have a long sentence."

Let's see: two-and-a-half years is 30 months. One third off for good behavior makes it 20 months. Desperate fathers have served more time than that for stealing a bottle of milk for hungry children. And what would Irving say if he had been sent to a real prison: Atlanta Penitentiary or Leavenworth, for example?

At the farm, lights are out at 10:30 p.m., but prisoners can sit up and watch television as long as they please. "I survive through a lot of physical exercise and exhaust myself into falling asleep," he says, without shedding a tear. He plays basketball, touch football, and is allowed to take long walks in the woods.

He sprained his right wrist "sparring with a punching bag." Five weeks ago "I went to the dentist for periodontal work and when he was finished with me, I saw that my teeth were white. I like them that way, so I quit, after smoking three packs a day for years."

That alone would wring admiration from a brass monkey. Visitors are allowed six days a week from 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. Sheila Moran said that the Allenwood Prison Farm—from the outside—looks like "a low-budget community college." For all those who are serving three to five years for being nabbed with a marijuana cigarette or who have stolen a hundred dollar watch, I advise getting on their knees and saying a prayer for the welfare of that poor innocent boob, Clifford Irving.

Not once, in all his talking, did he say he was sorry for what he had done. Not once did he mention it. The crushing blow to the author who almost got away with three-quarters of a million may come under heading of "cruel and unusual punishment."

Rhinebeck 'Salary Hikes'

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK The Rhinebeck Village Board decided Tuesday night to increase the mayor and four trustees' salaries by 50 per cent in order to attract a greater number of capable people to run for office.

The matter was suggested by Trustee Francis Kinney, who said he deplored the scarcity of candidates in the village most years and thought that raising the trustee salaries by 100 per cent would be a good idea.

The board settled on putting before the voters on March general election day the proposal that would increase the trustees' salaries from $500 to $750 annually and the mayor's from $1,000 to $1,500.

Village attorney Robert Winne said that the legal limit for third class villages such as Rhinebeck was $2,500 for mayor and $1,500 for trustees.

The law would allow a permissive referendum on the matter, leaving it up to the people to petition against it, but the board felt that the voters should definitely be allowed to express their feelings on the raise at the polls.

"You don't get anybody interested because of the aggravation of the job," declared Mayor Peter Sipperley, adding, "There's a good chance that if someone qualified wants to run this March I won't run again."

He said he had never wanted the mayor's job in the first place, preferring to remain a trustee, and Kinney suggested that the two switch jobs in a jesting manner.

Those positions up for election this year are the mayor, trustees Kinney and John Marks, and police justice William Pollard. There was some talk of abolishing the job of police justice when Justice Pollard retires.

Kinney said he wanted the action on candidates because he felt the next two years would be among the most exciting in the history of the village, with many problems facing the legislators.

In other business, Kinney said he would like an executive session to discuss the Police Department operation including alleged time off being taken without authority and a "matter of police confidentiality."

And Mayor Sipperley said that he was disgusted with the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department actions in enforcing the Sunday blue laws in Rhinebeck.

The Rhinebeck Fire Department has given the village a pledge to raise another $7,500 toward the purchase of its modular ambulance in the event that the federal grant for that amount does not pan out. The village board will issue specifications and delivery can not be anticipated before mid-summer on the custom built ambulance.

It was also suggested by the mayor that the village begin looking into the purchase of a new ladder truck for the fire department, a large budget item.

A bid on a new garbage truck was reviewed, with a verbal promise by Village Green Apartments to pay some $1,095 for special containers and a load lift attachment. Total bid was $19,114 plus trade in.

Grievance day has been set for Feb. 20, and the regular February meeting of the board will be held concurrently that day from 7-11 p.m.

On the newly acquired parking lot on East Market Street, the village board was in agreement to have demolition of the old Community Garage proceed now with most of the work to be done by village employees, and grading and surfacing set for "when the weather breaks" in about three months.

Trustee Eugene Trombini suggested eliminating parking meters from the entire village and not installing any in the new parking lot as a measure helping the Rhinebeck merchants, and other board members agreed.

Washington Day Dinner Planned

KINGSTON

The 48th annual Washington Day dinner sponsored by the Men's Club of Old Dutch Church will be held this year 6:15 p.m. Feb. 22 at Bethany Hall.

Guest speaker for the event will be "Senator" Bob Murphy of Nacogdoches, Tex. Characterized as "something of the speaker will discuss the topic 'Stir What You Got.'

Clair S. Sheaffer, general chairman of the dinner program, said that he has heard the speaker on two occasions at the International Human Resources Congress in Chicago and said he is "delightfully humorous."

Robert Haines is in charge of ticket distribution for the dinner. Stuart Randall is current president of the Men's Club.

Murphy, a practicing lawyer by profession enjoys life on a small ranch in the Piney Woods region of East Texas. He has looked at life and observed the American scene first hand as

A Western Union messenger boy, ranch band, sergeant at arms of the Texas House of Representatives, fire chief, merchant marine officer, county attorney, district attorney.

He often says that he "speaks perfect East Texas and fair English." "There isn't much to see living in a small town, but what you hear makes up for it," he adds.

Red Hook Increases Board Size

RED HOOK

The Town Board of Red Hook passed a resolution Tuesday night to increase the size of the board from five to seven members, deleting legislative powers from the two town justices.

The action came as a bit of a surprise to those present, as Rhinebeck has been considering the same measure for several months and is expected to pass a similar resolution this evening.

Supervisor Warren Simmons cited the possible conflict of interest inherent in the justices wearing two hats, adding that Red Hook would become a first class town soon anyway when the seven man board would become mandatory.

Red Hook has about 8,000 people, and a first class town has a minimum of 10,000 residents.

Justice Albert Trazza said that his work load was constantly increasing, giving support to the unanimous move. Councilman Harold Lasher was not present.

A public hearing date of February 21 was set at an as yet unspecified place. The board has decided not to hold public meetings at the town hall whenever possible because of its severely limited seating capacity.

The matter that consumed most of the board's time was a proposed town law limiting the use of snowmobiles and mini-bikes where they offend a neighbor.

Several Barrytown residents, who submitted a petition with 30 names asking for town help in controlling the noise, were present and interspersed their remarks with members of a local snowmobile club who opposed the passage of such legislation.

Most complaints were from people objecting to an "all day affair" with snowmobiles and mini-bikes next door. The town was told by the Dutchess County Sheriff's Department that it was powerless to act unless a local law regulating noise were adopted.

The proposed law, which will be rewarded prior to the board taking any action, calls for fines of up to $250 or imprisonment for up to 15 days for violations.

The Town Board is looking for a site of about ten acres to build a new modular-type town hall, using funds received in revenue sharing for this purpose.

The town's first revenue sharing check was for about $16,000, and the second one, just received, was for five per cent less.

A special meeting will be held Jan. 23 at 7:30 to act on bids on a new communications system for the highway department and to report on hiring a meeting place for town functions.

Dinosaur Prints Found

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Education Department says dinosaur remains have been found by two college students near Nyack in the lower Hudson Valley area.

The discovery was the first within New York State. Fisher said the state was given two slabs of rock with genuine dinosaur footprints.

The rocks show three types of prints—two reptilian and one probable amphibian. Fisher said the three-toed footprints are believed to be of the genera Anchisauripus and Grallator, small meat-eating dinosaurs who ran on their hind legs with long, slender tails used for balancing.

The discovery by Paul Olsen of Livingston, N.J., a Yale University student, and Robert Salvia of West Nyack, a student at Shimer College in Mt. Carroll, Ill., was made on a field search sponsored by Hale.

'Y' Classes Are Starting

KINGSTON All youth swim classes and short-term classes held at the YMCA of Kingston and Ulster County start this week except Scuba and Golf lessons.

Tuesday saw the start of Tiny Tot swim lessons, youth Judo, and Senior Lifesaving. Now is the time to take Senior Lifesaving as the spring class is always filled. The Counselor Training Class starts 14 weekly sessions on Jan. 16 and has openings for six more 16 year olds and over. The Golf classes have openings for six people for the Tuesday, 11 a.m. class and five for the 7 p.m. class, all starting Feb. 6 with William F. Reilly, golf pro, as instructor.

Both Women's Figure Shaping classes held on Wednesday evening are filled to capacity. Thursday beginners Ski lessons will start the first Thursday with snow. This class has a few openings and will hold five weekly sessions at Mohonk Ski Center.

Friday is the Junior-Senior High Slim and Trim Class which is like the Women's Figure Shaping and is only open to Junior and Senior High Girls. Also on Friday is the Synchronized Swimming class open to Junior High School through Adults and starts at 6:30 p.m. in the new pool.

Saturday, at 10 a.m. the Folk Guitar lessons for beginners is held and a second class at 11 a.m. There are a few openings in both of these classes.

For additional information, the YMCA, 507 Broadway, a member of the United Way of Ulster County, may be contacted.

Leaflets . . . New Attack On Prostitution

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police, who have tried harassment, warnings, arrests and police-women decoys in their battle turned to a new weapon—leaflets suggesting that the girls quit the business.

"Aren't you tired of all this?" the leaflet, handed out to arrested streetwalkers, says. "Isn't it about time you gave yourself a break?"

The handout goes on to say "... why go on like this? Is it because of some pimp who is using you; exploiting you for his satisfaction? If you want to get out of this rat race, we can help you."

At the bottom, the leaflet gives two phone numbers the working girls can call for help and further information.

So far, police said, there have been no takers.

State Police Make Arrest

RHINEBECK Jeffrey Richard Ackerman, of 9 Knollwood Drive, Rhinebeck, was arrested Tuesday by Rhinebeck State Police and charged with second degree obscenity for allegedly promoting the sale of obscene books and magazines at the United Cigar Store in Rhinebeck, where he is employed.

Several allegedly obscene books and magazines on display at the store were seized as evidence, police said.

Ackerman was released on his own recognizance for an appearance Jan. 18 before Rhinebeck Village Justice William Pollard.

Lloyd Gains Grant

An $87,000 grant for water sewer facilities for the Town of Lloyd has been announced by Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. Congressman Fish said that the money will come from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The funds will assist in defraying the cost of the new sewer lines, basins and man-hole covers, according to HUD.

ROCHESTER Rochester Planning Board Tuesday night approved the application of Samuel K. Cohen who plans to build a subdivision on the Berne Road in Kerhonkson near the Granit Hotel golf course.

The 27-home proposal passed without comment, according to Mrs. Amy Hirsch, Planning Board secretary.

A local developer, Howard Terwilliger showed the board tentative plans for a professional building he would like to build on Route 209 near the Starlight Hotel in the Town of Rochester.

Terwilliger is seeking a variance which would permit him to build the building in a residential sector. He also told of tentative plans for other developments of up to nine acres. No specific proposal has been made as yet.

C-H Contracted For Stock Sale

PIUGHKEEPSIE Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation has contracted for the sale of 120,000 shares of a new series of 7.44 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock to a group of underwriters headed by Blyth Eastman Dillon & Co., Inc., following competitive bidding.

Central Hudson will receive $100.323 per share, for a total of $12,038,760. The underwriters are expected to offer the preferred stock to the public at a price of $101.22 per share.

Attica Rebellion Newsman 'No Exemption Necessary'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A television newsman who was inside Attica prison during the 1971 inmate rebellion should not be exempt from testifying about his experience because his news sources are now dead.

That was one of the arguments advanced Tuesday by Assistant State Atty. Gen. Maxwell Spont in a hearing before the State Supreme Court's Appellate Division.

Stewart Dan and Roland Barnes of WGR-TV in Buffalo were appealing a lower-court order directing them to testify before a special grand jury probing the Attica rebellion.

The five-judge appeals panel has reserved decision in the case.

Dan, a newsman, and Barnes, a cameraman interviewed inmates Barry Schwartz and Kenneth Hess Sept. 10, 1971, the second day of the Attica revolt, and reported apparent hostility from other inmates directed toward those two.

After the rebellion was crushed, Schwartz and Hess were found stabbed to death.

"He was not only a witness to the event, he was part of it," Spont said of Dan's role.

F. James Kane Jr., representing Dan and Barnes, contended the state constitution and the Newsman's Privilege

Law provided his clients with immunity from testifying.

He accused the state of trying to turn the newsman into "investigative arms of the government."

Spont argued that the state law was designed to protect news sources but did not free journalists from the responsibility of testifying about events they happen to observe.

And, in this case, he added,

"The source of Dan's news is dead... there's no reason to protect them now."

As for Barnes, Spont said that a cameraman was not considered a newsman as defined in the state statute.

GARDINER

Gardiner Town Board held its organizational meeting of 1973

Tuesday and adopted a proposed salary schedule with the exception of proposed raises for the town assessors.

Supervisor George Majestic opposed the increases saying he wanted to see the amount of work accomplished by the assessors this year before granting raises. At present the chairman of the assessors receives $2,200 and the assessors receive $2,300. A $500 raise for the town clerk due to the extra work she performed in 1972 and anticipated performing in 1973.

The superintendent of highways was directed to advertise for bids for sand, gravel and shale and the board designated the Old Dutch Independent as the town's official newspaper.

Majestic said he opposed the designation because the paper is a "pennysaver".

The board also designated

Valley National Bank of Modena and Walkill as official depositories.

The board planned some work sessions on zoning and expects to hold two public hearings on the proposed zoning ordinance which is expected to be adopted in June.

The town presently works under a stop gap ordinance passed about six months ago.

Tivoli Mayor, Two Others to Seek Reelection

TIVOLI (for reelection March 20 in the Village of Tivoli, and it appears served two terms as mayor, and was a trustee prior to that.

Lawmakers at Session

By TIM SCHUSTER

RED HOOK to be about $5,600, with net cost to the district after state aid to be from $1,700 to $2,500 in the BOCES budget. It was also suggested by the Dutchess County School Boards Association Jan. 18 will feature two state assemblymen and a state senator on a panel "to field questions," according to Red Hook Central School District Principal Russell J. Keefe.

The meeting at Talbot's in Pleasant Valley will give county school board members an opportunity to confront their state legislators with resolutions passed by the State School Boards' Association recently, as well as to signify their intentions in regard to many references to the State Education Department made by Governor Rockefeller in his State of the State message. Those having accepted invitations to participate, according to Keefe, are Assemblymen Benjamin Roosa, Emel Betros, and Senator Jay P. Rolison.

The Red Hook Board of Education, at its regular session Monday night, approved preliminary BOCES requests for the 1973-74 school year as presented by Keefe. Elementary Principal David Machell, and Supervisor of Special Services Edgar Fisher.

Fisher, after recounting success stories with the film library program and Computer Based Resource Unit program, asked that future installation of a computer terminal in Red Hook be explored.

He said he had visited the Poughkeepsie center and the terminal in Roosevelt High School, Hyde Park, and that a team of men would be visiting the Rhinebeck terminal this week for more input.

He estimated the gross cost of the firm of Morton Glickman, Hudson was accepted by the board.

And a letter of praise for the district's Civil Defense emergency "go home plan" was read by Keefe. It was sent from George Still, Dutchess County Civil Defense coordinator.

And Board President Dr. George Michael, who is on a special education committee for Dutchess County BOCES with an eye toward revamping the entire program, said that his personal opinion was that BOCES would have to become more restrictive in taking children as many facilities were hard pressed to keep up with demand.

And he said that he thought that BOCES was leaning toward the rental of certain properties for classrooms rather than the expansion of the present new facilities at Salt Point, near Poughkeepsie.

BOCES has started a visitation program for county boards of education and has invited members of the Red Hook board to visit the evening of March 23.

Dr. Carl Stelman, board member, reporting on the Continuing Education program, termed it "highly successful" and a large offering for a school district of its size.

He said that registration for the Spring semester will be held Jan. 29-31, and that classes will begin the first week of February. There were 335 adult students in the Fall semester, registered in 25 classes.

The annual audit report from

And Trustees Herbert Mead and Acres) development on Woods Road.

Robert Barrett have each served two terms in that capacity.

None encountered any difficulty in being reelected two years ago. Residents must register by March 3 in order to be eligible to vote.

At the recent Village Board meeting, the largest problem discussed was a continuing debate on how to proceed with the new plan. The old calls for 10,000 square foot lots and the new for 15,000 square foot Meadowcrest (formerly Tivoli lots).

In other business, it was noted that the village has received its operating permit for the new tertiary sewerage treatment plant and that renewal depends on satisfactory operation, according to state standards.

A letter to Governor Rockefeller was asked for by Mayor Appel describing how federal revenue sharing funds are to be spent in the village.

The amount, some $5,400 in the first installment and a similar amount expected within the month, has been earmarked for public safety in a new fire alarm system and the in-punch cards have been stallation of 80 new highway signs in the village, as well as for road and street repairs. A meeting will be held shortly with Town of Red Hook Highway Superintendent Lawrence Hagan asking if town trucks can lower plows on certain Tivoli streets for recompense. The streets to be affected are North Road, Woods Road, and Montgomery Street.

In line with this, the overnight parking law will be "strictly enforced," according to Village Clerk Dora Gruntler.

Tax maps and computer delivered to the village from Bud Ifill, and the Village Board is expected to work on assessment changes over the next two months.

Grievance Day has been scheduled for Feb. 20.

The board moved to appoint Woody Klose, North Road, to the Zoning Board of Appeals, to be based upon his acceptance.

And the Planning Board has set Jan. 15 at 8 p.m. as the time for a public hearing on proposed subdivision regulations for the village, according to Bernard Tiger of that board.

Interpol Far Cry From TV Image

OTTAWA (AP) — Interpol, made, ensuring that no matters get shuffled aside. Commissioner Higgitt said Interpol has become a powerful weapon against international crime since it was founded in 1923.

But its function is over-dramatized and misunderstood by the public, says the first Canadian ever to lead the world agency which links police forces in 114 countries around the globe.

Commissioner W. Leonard Higgitt of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the first non-European president of Interpol, says the colorful image that has grown up around the organization is both misleading and inaccurate.

"Contrary to what the television series says, Interpol doesn't have high-level investigators flying around the world. There are none of these guys out making arrests, telephone calls from phone booths and so on. This is straight fiction."

Interpol itself has no investigators, although it does have an administrative staff of about 180 at its headquarters in St. Cloud, outside Paris.

Investigative work, and a lot of it, is done for Interpol but it is carried out by police forces in member countries, none working under the label of Interpol.

The agency exists to help countries hunt down international lawbreakers and to advance law enforcement within participating countries, particularly smaller and less-developed nations.

Commissioner Higgitt, elected president last September at the annual Interpol general assembly in Frankfurt, Germany, said he regards the agency as one of the finest world bodies in existence.

Day-to-day Interpol operations are run by a general secretariat under direction of a secretary general. There is also an executive committee composed of the president, three vice-presidents and nine delegates.

Under the Interpol constitution, the president, elected to a four-year term, and all three vice-presidents, each elected for three, must come from different continents. Delegates are also apportioned geographically for international balance.

Interpol is financed by member countries under a complex formula that boils down to their ability to pay.

"Obviously the United States pays more than Jamaica," said Commissioner Higgitt. "It's often a matter of judgment."

In his view, two key clauses in the constitution account for the success of Interpol.

One strictly forbids any political, military, religious or racial "intervention or activities" by Interpol in member countries.

The second restricts the obligation of each country to matters covered in its own legal system.

But the constitution does demand a response from the National Central Bureau in each country when a request is

ROBIN ADAMS SLOAN

Q: The Nixon Administration didn't want to show my promised to do something about the drug problem. Did it keep its promise? — B.E., Detroit.

A: Well, there is plenty still to be done, but if you believe drying up the supply is a plus, the Administration scored in that direction. New cooperation with the French caused five clandestine French morphine labs to be broken up, and over four tons of heroin confiscated. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst met with his French counterpart, Interior Minister Raymond Marcellin, and as a result four French gangsters are being delivered to the U.S. for prosecution in an international dope ring case.

Q: Some of my friends interested in ecology and conservation mentioned the Green Revolution and said it wasn't enough to save the world. I

A: The Green Revolution is a popular name attributed to Nobel Peace Prize winner Norman Borlaug's development of new, miracle strains of grain and rice. This discovery helped save millions of Asians from starvation, possibly more than any technological advance in history. The negative attitude of your friends probably referred to the fact that many think time is running out and the Green Revolution will not be able to stem the rising tide of world famine.

Q: I gather the President and Dr. Kissinger get along great, but aren't really friends. Do they have anything in common? — K.E., Roanoke, Va.

A: Yes, they both love classical music. Dr. Kissinger is so much a hi-fi fan that he shaves with an old-fashioned razor so he can enjoy music while dressing. He owns three versions of Beethoven's Seventh Symphony, as recorded by Tzucanin, Beecham, and Bruno Walter. When in the doldrums, Kissinger likes to hear "La Valse" by Ravel.

Combined Efforts Are Suggested

SAUGERTIES
Town Supervisor A. Michael Schovel appeared before the Saugerties Village Board Monday night and suggested the town and the village combine their efforts on the problems of dogs and refuse collection.

Schovel said that the town plans to build a dog pound at its landfill site off Route 212 within the next few months and suggested that the village and the town could operate a town-wide program together. Currently, each municipality has separate programs.

While on the subject of landfills, Schovel also suggested that the village close down its own landfill on North Street (in the village) and join the town at its landfill. Schovel indicated that a joint operation could result in saving of money to both municipalities. The town board took both his recommendations under advisement.

Mayor Cornelius Cox received a letter from the Martin Cantine Company, of the village, notifying him and the village board that the firm intended to meet all air pollution standards by Aug. 15 of this year. The board was informed that two new boilers will be installed in the plant this year which should cut down considerably on smoke stack emissions and odors.

In other action, according to assistant clerk Marilyn Daley, the board granted a permit to the Saugerties National Bank and Trust Company to erect a new sign on Main Street. The sign will note the change in the bank's name to "Chase Manhattan of Mid-Hudson."

Snowmobiles Are Prohibited

SAUGERTIES
The Saugerties School Board met in regular session Monday night and unanimously voted to prohibit the operation of snowmobiles on school property. The meeting was a short one as board President Robert Francello and Board Clerk Peter Kramer were absent due to illness.

The board discussed the BOCES program for the coming year and scheduled a special meeting for Jan. 22 at the Administration Building on Hill Street for further discussions.

Olds... A Record In 1972

LANSING, Mich. For the first time in modern automotive history, Oldsmobile Division, on the strength of record December deliveries, captured third place in domestic car sales for calendar year 1972.

Howard H. Kehrl, Oldsmobile general manager, and William J. Buxton, divisional general sales manager, jointly announced today record calendar year sales of 771,280 which boosted Olds into the industry's third position. This total tops the divisions' previous calendar year high of 696,883, established in 1971.

Oldsmobile climaxed its most successful year with dealers delivering 71,491 cars in December. This surpasses the former December high of 57,191 set in 1963.

"Checking yearly figures back through 1935," said Kehrl, "shows this is the first time in modern automotive history that Oldsmobile has captured third place in calendar year sales. It is significant," Kehrl added, "that during 1972... the same year in which Oldsmobile celebrated its diamond anniversary... we finished third in sales for both the calendar year and model year." 1972 marks the continuation of a move by Oldsmobile up through the industry sales standings. After being sixth in calendar year sales from 1967-70, Olds moved into a solid fourth place in 1971.

Internal Auditing... Workshop Held

KINGSTON — Thirty-two local bank officials, recently attended a twelve-hour workshop on "Internal Auditing for Banks." This workshop was sponsored by the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Accountants as part of the Chapter's Local Professional Development Program.

This extremely successful workshop was moderated by Glenn N. Sutherland, CPA, a manager in the White Plains

Tale of Two Brothers . . . 'Gradual Change for Better'

RHINECLIFF
The people of Rhinecliff take pride in their community, and many see a gradual change for the better in this old river town, according to the Cole brothers, Donald and Roger, who have spent a lifetime here.

Spurred to contact The Freeman by a story that appeared recently regarding the proposed renovation of the old Stahl General Store building, they were vociferous in pointing out that the few decaying old buildings in this old hamlet were far outweighed by well-kept homes.

They were visited at their greenhouses, where one of the largest hybrid anemone crops in the East is raised every year atop a hill overlooking the Hudson River.

The old buildings that despoil a section of Rhinecliff have been a problem for many years. "When I was on the Town Board 20 years ago, we tried to do something," said Donald Cole about one building "eyesore" owned by Mrs. John Newman.

Condemnation proceedings were investigated by the Town Board about a year ago for the same building, that once housed a few small stores and apartments, but has been vacant for many years.

The other large brick building across the street from the Newman building was recently purchased by Mrs. Marcina Kagan of Hyde Park. She has planned renovation and eventual restoration to a functioning capacity of that building which formerly housed Philip Stahl's general store.

Several of the old properties in Rhinecliff have been "tied up" in various ways over the years by outside speculators, much to the chagrin of residents who must live with unkept properties.

One such building, according to the Cole brothers, is the old Episcopal Church on Grinnell Street. While many people have attempted to unravel ownership and have been interested in purchasing the property, it has remained a silent, haunting specter.

A parallel was drawn between the fortunes of Rhinecliff and another old river town Tivoli by Donald Cole in recounting the slipping fortunes and current revival of interest.

He said that about 1945, at the conclusion of the second world war, outside land speculators began buying up country property and homes when area residents found they could not support themselves in the community and moved away.

Both communities were largely dependent on the New York Central Railroad and on state jobs prior to the war, and when many of these went by the boards the communities were stuck with unoccupied and some deteriorating housing. It was a familiar story of repeated along the Hudson River.

Roger Cole maintained that passenger service is better now than it was ten years ago at Rhinecliff, despite the fact that the once grandiose station has been neglected in recent years.

People from a wide area on both sides of the river find the Rhinecliff station the closest one for railroad travel, and it is not unusual to see 50 or 60 people debarking from a train on weekends.

And it is this steady influx of "city people" seeking weekend and retirement homes who have aided in turning the tide of fortune for Rhinecliff, they noted.

"If real estate brokers can get a house to sell in Rhinecliff, they can sell it the next day," said Donald, adding that many people from the town come down to the town-owned dock in the evening just to watch the sunset that residents get for free.

There are some problems. With the close of the Stahl store two years ago, some elderly people, outpatients, and city weekenders who did not keep cars were adversely affected, although the availability of cars to most residents did not make the closing a disaster.

The outpatients from Hudson River State Hospital are well taken care of, "but there are not enough recreational facilities there," it was noted. The large sums of money from such estates as the Mortons and Astors and Vanderbilts are no longer available, but the Morton Memorial Library is a source of pride to the small community and is almost entirely maintained locally. "It is even taxed," said library trustee Donald Cole.

The change takes place gradually. The former Rhinecliff Methodist Church, whose congregation merged with that of Rhinebeck about two years ago, appears to be on the verge of being sold to a young man from New York City who wants to live there. And the dock site, while too small for development into a park, "is the only public access to the river from Staatsburg to Hudson," said Donald Cole. Both felt that Rhinecliff is going through a period of change . . . for the better.

Contempt of Court Convictions

Press Freedom . . . Two Newsmen Make Appeal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two Louisiana newsmen are appealing contempt of court convictions which arose from their disobeying a court order later found to be unconstitutional.

The circumstances of the case, which involves publication of testimony in open court, are unique among the growing number of clashes between newsmen and the government.

The case involves two Baton Rouge, La., reporters — Larry Dickinson of the State-Times and Gibbs Adams of the Morning Advocate.

They and other newsmen covering an open court hearing Nov. 1, 1971 in a civil rights case were forbidden by U.S. District Court Judge E. Gordon West to publish any of the testimony. West said:

"In order to avoid undue publicity which could in any way interfere with the rights of the litigants in connection with any further proceedings that might be held in this or other courts, there shall be no reporting of the details of any evidence taken during the course of this hearing today."

Both newspapers published accounts of the testimony that day and included West's order in their stories.

The next day West cited Adams and Dickinson for contempt of court and fined them $300 each.

They appealed to the 5th Circuit, contending that the order deprived them of freedom of the press.

In August, 1972 the 5th Circuit ruled that West's order was "constitutionally infirm," but said the newsmen should not have disobeyed a court order; rather they should have sought an injunction to stay the order.

Joiners

The Stated Assembly of Ancient City Council No. 21, Royal and Select Masters, will be held in the Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, on Thursday, Jan. 11, at 7 p.m. The Royal Master and Select Master Degrees will be conferred upon a class of candidates, and R. H. Comp. Jerrold Hastings, District Deputy Grand Master of the 3rd Cryptic District will present a 50 years of membership Certificate to Companion Frederic Snyder. All Royal and Select Master Masons are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served, following the meeting.

The appeals court remanded the case to West, asking him to consider again the punishment of the pair in light of the fact that his order was "infirm." West upheld his original order. And the newsmen have appealed again.

The appeals court will conduct a hearing on this appeal Feb. 15. A three-judge panel has not been selected yet. It may be a different panel from the one that decided the first case.

In the August ruling, the 5th Circuit said:

"Both the district court and the court of appeals were available and could have been contacted that very day, thereby affording speedy and effective but orderly review of the injunction in question swiftly enough to protect the right to publish news while it was still 'news'."

"Under the circumstances, reporters took a chance. As civil disobedients have done before they ran a risk, the risk being magnified in this case by the law's policy which forecloses their right to assert invalidity of the order as a complete defense to a charge of criminal contempt. Having disobeyed the court's decree, they must, as civil disobedients, suffer the consequences for having rebelled at what they deem injustice, but in a manner not authorized by law. They may take comfort in the fact that they, as their many forerunners, have thus established an important constitutional principle — which may be all that was really at stake — but they may not now escape the inescapable legal consequence for their flagrant, intentional disregard of the mandates of a court."

In upholding his original order, West said:

"It was not the fact that this court then and now believes that its order was a valid one that alone gave rise to the contempt citation. It was the fact that these defendants, rather than seek an available judicial review of the court's order, decided instead to announce to court personnel that they were going to violate the order and then, after violating the order, contemptuously announced to the public, at the end of their published articles, that they had published this story despite an order of court ordering them not to do so. It was primarily this public display of utter contempt for this court's order that prompted the contempt citation."

In written arguments filed for the 5th Circuit's consideration before the Feb. 15 hearing, U. S. Attorney Gerald Gallinghouse said:

"The question here before the court is not whether the order of the district court ... was constitutionally infirm, but rather whether the defendants were in contempt of court because of their refusal to obey the order of the court's orders and refuse to use proper judicial process, the judicial system will deteriorate and become ineffective."

Attorneys for the newsmen contend that "the violation of Judge West's order in this case had no substantive effect whatever on the judicial proceedings before Judge West and did not affect or inhibit his judicial power in any way whatever."

His order, they said, concerned possible future litigation not undue publicity that directly involved his court. West's order thus amounted to prior restraint on freedom of the press, which is unconstitutional, the attorneys said.

McGovern Would Do Things Differently, if . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — If he could do it over again, Sen. George McGovern says, his presidential campaign would be different: less travel, more television, less openness with the press, and more "no comments."

"My confidence in the ability to get to people with appeals based on simple, old-fashioned virtues like trust and decency has been shattered," said the Democratic party's 1972 presidential nominee, who was overwhelmed by President Nixon in last November's election.

As he eased back into his congressional routine — and geared up for his 1974 senatorial re-election campaign — the South Dakota senator reflected in an interview on what he would do differently.

"I'd conduct a cooler campaign," McGovern said. "Campaigning in three or four cities a day is a thing of the past. I don't think anyone will ever run for president that way again."

McGovern added: "I had thought that, as an underdog, it would impress people with my determination and sincerity. But it didn't work that way."

His advice for anyone contemplating a presidential campaign: Do less traveling and depend more on television-

"fireside chats" — to carry your message to the voters.

"I wouldn't be as open with the press," McGovern said. "I'd be more discreet, more cautious about baring my soul. There would be more 'no comments'."

McGovern says the press did a poor job of covering the campaign.

"I don't think the American people got a true picture," he said. "That was partly my fault and partly the fault of the press. I don't have harsh feelings for the press. I think they do a good job generally. But we had an unusual situation this time and neither I nor the press handled it quite right."

The senator particularly resents what he considers the news media's gullibility in falling for the Nixon campaign's strategy of using "surrogate candidates."

Day after day, McGovern said, various spokesmen for the Nixon administration were given equal play with the Democratic presidential nominee while Nixon was able to ride out the campaign without ever having to respond to most of the point of despair.

McGovern's charges.

McGovern's somber mood extended to the subject that propelled him into presidential politics — the Vietnam war.

"I'm terribly discouraged, almost at the point of despair," he said. "I don't know if Congress can do anything with the President. He doesn't consult with us, he doesn't talk to us, he doesn't tell us anything. He just does."

But, McGovern said, ending the war still is his top priority. He said of the stalled peace negotiations: "I'm not going around saying 'I told you so.' But it's perfectly obvious, as I warned, that President Nixon deliberately misled us."

Journalism Awards... 50 Editors Selected

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty editors have been named to help select the winners of the 1973 Pulitzer prizes in journalism, which are to be awarded May 7.

William McGill, president of Columbia University, which administers the prizes, said Monday the editors will screen nominations for awards in 11 categories — public service, local spot news, local investigative reporting, national reporting, international reporting, editorials, cartoons, news and feature photography criticism and commentary.

The jurors submit three to six nominees in each category to the Pulitzer advisory board. Final winners are selected by the university trustees, acting on the recommendations of the board, but not bound by them.

TESTIMONIAL BANQUET — Among the more than 80 persons who attend a recent banquet, at the Gov. Clinton Hotel, for Mrs. Mary Cawston, second right, retired Woodstock elementary school teacher were: (L) Alvin Lichtenstein, principal of the school; Ronald Vanni, director of Elementary Education for Ontario Central Schools; James Cawston, her husband and Dr. Frank M. Marlow, superintendent of schools. Mrs. Cawston taught in the Ontario system for 20 years.

Firemen Elected In Woodstock

WOODSTOCK — Meeting in annual session Jan. 2, members of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 of Lake Hill elected David W. Eighmey to the position of president and John Mergandahl as captain of the fire company. Other officers for the year include Eugene Pettet, vice president; Henry P. Eighmey, secretary; Walter Stone, director for three years; Alfred Ostrander and Gordon Walker, lieutenants. Progress was reported on the third truck the company is planning to place in service — a 300 gallon pumper carrying an additional 600 gallons of water. Chief Robert Rifenburg of the Woodstock Fire Department reported plans for the year and checked the equipment available at Company No. 3. During the past year the firehouse was redecorated, a third bay was constructed, and a third truck was purchased to service the increasing number of buildings in the area.

Heart Fund Head Tabbed

SAUGERTIES — Wilson Edmunds, Jr. will head the 1973 Heart Fund Campaign in Saugerties, according to announcement made this week by Francis Kugelman, 1973 Ulster County Chairman of the Heart Fund drive. The 1973 campaign will be conducted here, and throughout the country, during February, which has been declared American Heart Month by Congress.

According to Edmunds, Heart volunteers will canvass the Saugerties area on Heart Sunday, Feb. 4, to distribute "heart saving" information, and to collect funds to support research, educational and community service activities of the local Heart Association. "It will take more than the efforts of the dedicated volunteers for this campaign to be totally successful," said Edmunds. "It will take the personal interest and financial support of all people in Saugerties, to do our part in combating cardiovascular diseases." Edmunds noted that heart disease affects approximately 13 per cent of the this country's total population, and claims one million lives each year. Assisting Edmunds in this

Well Baby Clinics Set In Saugerties

SAUGERTIES — The Ulster County Health Department will again hold monthly Well Baby Clinics in Saugerties the second Thursday of each month from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Barclay Medical Arts Building, beginning Jan. 11. Appointments to attend must be made with Mrs. Ann Kirkpatrick, the local public health nurse. Dr. Paul Hoveman will be in attendance and volunteers from the Saugerties Health Committee will assist. These preventive services are available for infants and preschool children who are not under regular medical supervision. Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Doris Arnesen, Supervising Public Health Nurse, at the Ulster County Office Building.

Man Sentenced

Michael James Denahy, 26, of Stickles Trailer Park, Ulster Avenue Mall, was sentenced to 60 days in the Ulster County Jail following an appearance Tuesday night before Saugerties Village Police Justice David Goble. Denahy was arrested Dec. 13 and charged with forgery second degree by Saugerties Village Police Chief Gordon Keeley and Sgt. McPeck.

'Foster' Decision...Action Looms

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE
Ellenville school attorney Benjamin Lonstein told the Ellenville Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night that he is looking into the possibilities of both court action and new state legislation in the wake of the recent unfavorable decisions on foster children from the State Commissioner of Education.

In the decisions of appeals brought before him by both the Ulster and Westchester County Commissioners of Education,

State Education Commissioner Ewald B. Nyquist ruled last week that the Ellenville School District's policy of refusing to admit foster children placed in the district by an outside agency without tuition for the children being paid by the agencies would have to cease. The school district had instituted the policy to try to help pay for the education of the mounting number of foster children in the district. At the start of the current school year there were 92 foster children in the Ellenville School District, up about 10 over the last school year. The foster children were allowed to attend school pending the results of Nyquist's rulings. Lonstein told the school board, as he had previously told the Freeman, that he was not surprised by the ruling. "We could not kid the commissioner: that the law was in our favor," he said. The attorney said it was "disappointing" that other school districts were not backing the Ellenville fight, though several have privately expressed interest. Lonstein seemed to think a court battle would be decided in Ellenville's favor. "Equity and justice is on our side this case," he said. Lonstein said he had already contacted Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-Woodstock) about introducing another bill on foster children in the State legislature. Bell has introduced three bills in the past for Ellenville; two passed both houses, only to be vetoed by Gov. Rockefeller. The last one the governor vetoed, Lonstein said, was what Rockefeller wanted but the governor said the counties were not prepared to pay the increased cost. Lonstein indicated the governor had not thought of the "poor little Ellenville School District." In other action, the board approved the granting of a certificate of completion for students who complete the district's special education program. Superintendent Thomas J. Hayden said that previously students in the program just dropped out when they had gone as far as they could.

The board created the position of "department chairman" for five subject areas. The positions are to be filled by board action. Several board members noted that the Ellenville Teachers Association favors the teachers electing their own chairmen, and the subject had been introduced into the last contract negotiations.

The Kimble Hose Company's former fire house, which has reverted to the school district now that the company is using a new fire house, will be leased at $1 a year to the Ulster County Association for Retarded Children. The UCARC is in the process of setting up in Ellenville a program for the handicapped similar to its operation in Kingston. The building is unsuitable, without major renovation, for district classrooms, according to Hayden.

A committee was appointed to study the district's leased facilities and its own sites to see what changes, if any should be made. The committee was prompted by the coming termination of the lease on the district offices. A higher rent is requested in the new lease.

URA 'Improvement' Planned; Bid Openings in February

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency will open bids early next month on a public improvement project in the Uptown Project, the widening and reconstruction of Washington Avenue from Lucas Avenue to the Penn Central Railroad Tracks and Hurley Avenue from the A&P Supermarket to its intersection with Washington Avenue.

Work will include the widening of Washington Avenue to a width of 40 feet and the widening of Hurley Avenue to 52 feet. Sanitary and storm sewers, water lines, street lights, trees, traffic signals and sidewalks will also be installed on a project that the agency hopes to complete by Thanksgiving Weekend.

The agency will advertise for construction bids within the next two weeks, James G. Connors, executive director, told The Freeman today.

Part of the work will also include the improvement of three of the city's busiest intersections, at Lucas and Washington, Washington and North Front and Washington and Hurley. A "traffic island" will be constructed at Hurley and Washington and planted with trees and shrubbery.

Part of the project, according to Connors, also includes the removal of power poles and the installation of underground power lines. Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. will go underground on the east side of Washington Avenue between Lucas Avenue and North Front Street; all poles will be removed from Washington Avenue to the Metropolitan Life Insurance parking lot on both sides of the streets; all poles will be removed from the intersection of Washington Avenue and Hurley Avenue and all poles will be removed from the North side of Hurley Avenue out to the project boundary lines at the A&P store.

In order to minimize traffic tieups, the work has been divided into five stages, beginning with the construction on Washington Avenue from the railroad tracks to its intersection with Clinton Avenue Extension.

The second stage will seek work on the intersection of Washington and Hurley Avenues followed by work on Hurley Avenue. After that Washington Avenue from Hurley Avenue to North Front Street is on the drawing board. The final stage will be the section of Washington Avenue from North Front Street to Lucas Avenue.

Connors said the agency also plans to let bids in the spring on Fair Street from Clinton Avenue Extension to John Street; on North Front Street from Fair Street to Converse Street; and on John Street from Green Street to Clinton Avenue.

That contract will be the final one in the public improvement program in the Uptown Project. "All street work will be under contract this year," Connors said.

The final contract for streetwork in the Broadway East Project was let late last year, involving construction on the periphery streets around the projects.

As of the end of 1972, the agency has spent $2,834,402 in public improvements in the Broadway East Project and $2,004,557 in the Uptown Project. Demolition and clearance costs Uptown were $135,476 while $506,016 was spent downtown.

Fire Exam Results Within Six Weeks

KINGSTON

Results of Civil Service Examinations to fill the posts of chief and deputy chief (three vacancies) in the Kingston Fire Department are expected within the next six weeks, The Freeman learned today.

The examinations were held on Nov. 11, and results are expected "sometime in February." Acting Chief Robert L. Maines took a "non-competitive" examination for chief of the department while seven other fire officers competed for the three vacancies for deputy chief.

Candidates for deputy chief included Lieutenants Donald Williams, Robert Priest, Joseph Carle, Donald Hammond, William Schrieber and Francis Argulewicz and Capt. Philip E. Greer Sr. The position of deputy chief in the Kingston Fire Department pays $11,584 per year. The chief of the department is paid at the annual rate of $13,852.

Deputy Chief Hugh Greer was also eligible to compete for the position of chief of the department, but the Board of Fire Commissioners voted unanimously in June of last year to restrict the examination to Maines.

Maines was named acting chief of the department on March 15, 1972, following the retirement of Chief James M. Brett.

In other Civil Service news, Jan. 23 is the last filing date for persons seeking the post of police patrolman in the Kingston Police Department. The examination will be held Feb. 4.

To be eligible, persons must be between 21 and 29 years old and a resident of Ulster County for at least four months preceding the date of examination. The job pays between $7,069 and $8,836 a year. Further information is available from the Municipal Civil Service Commission at city hall.

Assistant DA Resigns

POUGHKEEPSIE
Carl F. Wolfson has tendered his resignation as Assistant District Attorney for Dutchess County, effective Jan. 1, 1973, after five years on the DA's staff.

DA Albert M. Rosenblatt, in commenting on the resignation, said that Carl Wolfson "has been a truly dedicated and highly capable public servant and the District Attorney's office will be much affected by his departure."

Rosenblatt took the opportunity to remark that this is "simply another example of qualified assistants leaving the District Attorney's office because the private practice offers financial compensation too far in excess of the salary scale here."

But he noted, "In this year's budget, the Board has begun to recognize the need for retaining, on as close to a career basis as possible, lawyers who represent the public trust."

In commenting the Board of Representatives for that decision, Rosenblatt pointed out that "when an Assistant District Attorney leaves to practice law after staying... for only a short time, it amounts to the public paying for the training and education of private defense lawyers."

Wilson stated in his remarks: "The volume of work in the District Attorney's office is constantly increasing, and it is for that reason that you have rightly requested and obtained permission from the Board of Representatives for all of your assistants to be fulltime employees. "However, when one's entire income depends upon one position, that income must be of such a nature as to sustain the experience and ability of an attorney to earn money as a private practitioner," he added.

The public may attend this program at Coleman School. There is no admission charge. "Students participating in this program deserve the public's support," Miller concluded.

American Legion Contest Begins at Coleman High

KINGSTON
The annual American Legion sponsored oratorical contest starts this week with the Ulster County competition taking place at the John A. Coleman High School in Kingston on Thursday, Jan. 11 at 8 p.m.

Seven of the ten high schools in Ulster County will enter contestants. Some of the outstanding history and speech students in the county will be vying for the county championship and the right to go on to the Third District American Legion competition. Cash awards are presented to the top three contestants.

Entering the 1973 competition among Ulster County schools will be representatives of Saugerties Central School, John A. Coleman High School, Rondout Valley Central School, Ellenville Central School, Highland Central School, New Paltz Central School and Wallkill Central School.

John A. Miller of Highland, a retired teacher and administration official of Highland Central School is serving his 34th year as Ulster County chairman of this worthy American Legion program. One of the most worthwhile features of this program according to Miller is the fact an estimated $100,000 in scholarship money is awarded annually in this program which covers a dissertation on a subject related to the U.S. Constitution delivered in an eight to ten minute speech.

The public may attend this program at Coleman School. There is no admission charge. "Students participating in this program deserve the public's support," Miller concluded.

How to avoid February frustration.

All too often, Delightful December and Joyful January are followed by Frustrating February.

Christmas gift-buying and holiday entertaining are not entirely to blame. During this most happy of seasons, most families are also faced with other unavoidable bills: the final installment on school taxes due December 15, fourth quarterly payment on Declaration of Estimated Income Tax due January 15, and real estate taxes payable January 31.

The worksheet at right can help you determine what you need to set aside each week in a Kingston Trust Christmas Club in order to avoid future February Frustration.

What Size Christmas Club?

1. Enter amount you'd like to spend to buy Christmas gifts for family, friends $
 2. Seasonal charitable contributions
 3. Holiday entertaining
 4. One-half your school taxes
 5. Quarterly state and federal income tax payment for those filing Form 1040-ES ...
 6. Real estate taxes
 7. Other (perhaps that long-desired winter vacation?)
- TOTAL OF ABOVE $
- Divide Total by 50 $

Choose Christmas Club class nearest to above figure. You may open more than one club. (For instance, if you would like to save $17 a week, open one $10 club, one $5 club and one $2 club.)

Quake Forecasts Feasible Soon

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — Earthquake forecasts as reliable and precise as hurricane warnings will be feasible in 10 years or earlier, a U.S. Geological Survey research chief predicts.

"We are on the threshold of spectacular breakthroughs. We anticipate success," Jerry T. Eaton said Wednesday in an interview. Eaton is chief of the survey's office of earthquake research and crustal studies.

"All the elements of our work are coming together now. This means that we can judge the site, the time and magnitude," he said.

Japanese and Russian research efforts also are progressing on a major scale, Eaton said, and those nations are pooling their information with that developed by American scientists.

Eaton said that, while there has been notable progress in earthquake-prediction ability over the last eight years, "we can't venture a scientifically based prediction yet."

"I will make an out-on-a-limb guess that there will be no catastrophic quake (in the San Francisco Bay area) of the 1906 San Francisco scale for at least the next 20 to 30 years."

The Dec. 23 Managua, Nicaragua, earthquake with its huge toll in human lives and destruction underscores the worth of a reliable quake-predicting system, Eaton said.

"It's simple to say what causes a major earthquake. It's the release of stored elastic energy jammed up in the rock faces locked together in plates of the earth's crust moving in opposite directions," Eaton said.

Laser and computer instruments developed since the great Alaska earthquake of Good Friday 1964 make it possible to record minute fault creeping and to detect symptoms of fault failure, Eaton said.

"With laboratory simulation of rock-strain endurance, plus other clues, we can construct computer models of when there must be a failure in a fault locking system," he said.

He said California's 700-mile San Andreas Fault system is nature's contribution to the study.

"It will give us a number of 5 Richter magnitude quakes — just below destructive scale — and we will be able to prove and test out all we have found out," he said.

"We'll have to have the dry-run experience with San Andreas quakes of magnitude 5 or less before we can have full confidence in our capability of predicting a really major quake," Eaton said.

Commission Seeks Revisions In Consumer-Credit Field

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission has proposed major revisions in the consumer-credit field to make credit cheaper and easier to get, but members said the panel was not unanimous in its recommendations and urged caution in adopting them.

The head of the National Commission on Consumer Finance said in a report to Congress Wednesday that the chief goal is to promote greater competition in the consumer-credit market.

"Only once workable competition is achieved can rates be left free from regulation," said commission chairman Ira M. Millstein, a New York City attorney.

The panel urged free entry into the market by small-loan companies, savings and loan firms, banks on competitive terms and retail businesses.

The commission, created by Congress in 1968, is composed of three members appointed by the president, three senators appointed by the president of the Senate and three congressmen named by the speaker of the House.

In its lengthy report, the commission made 85 recommendations to safeguard both consumer and lender rights including elimination of harassing collection methods and restrictions on such practices as garnishment and repossession. Because credit is so important to American consumers, the commission believes that it should be available to every creditworthy applicant on a nondiscriminatory basis," the report said.

It urged states to prevent "widespread instances of unwarranted discrimination in the granting of credit to women."

'New Serenity', Poise in Spring Fashions

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Fashion goes upbeat instead of off beat for the new season. The term the designers now use for the leveling off of kooky looks and the dominance of the pretty and conservative is "the new serenity." Add it all up, the designers say, and you get the most feminine clothes offered women in years.

As you start assembling a spring wardrobe, look for skirts that show some leg but are "ladylike" about covering the knee. There are plenty of pants around but the big news is the DRESS.

"Light, airy fabrics, crisp linens, neat prints, crystal clear colors and shapes . . . all spell out the new serenity and poise in fashion." That's the way the New York Couture Business Council puts it in its summary of trends for spring.

Clothes Move

The council this week is holding its 60th semi-annual "Press Week," showings of the new collections for visiting reporters who'll see every facet of "ready-to-wear" from coats and suits to hats and jewelry.

Part of the "new serenity" lies in the fact that clothes "move"—all kinds of pleats, pants with wider legs, soft materials, tops with bloused fullness.

The drawstring waist, rediscovered, gathers clothes softly to the body. Waistlines are natural again in most collections, although a few new chemise and tent shapes are to be watched. The shirt look is everywhere.

The boom in tennis as an active sport spills over into the tennis dress look for the street, the beach, and into hats. The result: lots of white with some red or navy trim.

Back comes the sleeveless dress with accompanying jacket, either matching for a suit effect, or contrasting with bright stripes, geometrics or other strong patterns.

Linen-like Pants

The short, bare evening dress is the order, in halter or slip-like shapes, fabrics like chiffon, and pastels and navy the leading colors.

The couture group says the jacket is the constant element in any separates formula, whether it's a cardigan to wear with everything, a copy of the baseball jacket, a shirt jacket, or even the man's smoking jacket gone to the girls. Designers also supply the drawstring treatment to jacket waists.

Adding to the soft looks are short-puffed or roll-up sleeves, fuller sleeves, and less of the T-shirt or "poor boy" look.

Pants for spring come in linen-like fabrics, chambray, gabardine or cord. They soften up with baggy shapes and the wide, wide legs of the palazzo. Also on the scene: jogger pants and revival of the Bermudas.

Pale colors and light fabrics carry the coat scene. Shapes again are the classics—the flared tent, the wrap, the cardigan. And again, the drawstring belt.

Sawkill Auxiliary to Meet Monday

The Ladies Auxiliary of Sawkill Volunteer Fire Company will meet Monday, Jan. 15, at Sawkill Firehouse at 8 p.m. Upcoming projects for 1973 will be discussed.

A card party complete with games is planned for the Senior Citizens of the community on Thursday, Mar. 15. The local 4-H Club has volunteered to make refreshments. Mrs. Mary Rutherford, leader, is in charge. Auxiliary members are requested to bring gifts for the event to the February meeting.

A family winter fun night is in the planning stage. Making arrangements are Mrs. Victoria Tietjen, Miss Laura Joy, Mrs. Margaret Hickey, and Mrs. Marguerite Stoddard, chairman.

The annual June banquet will be discussed at the January meeting.

A Christmas party for the children took place in December under the chairmanship of Mrs. Joyce VanKeugen.

All members are urged to attend the Monday meeting, as well as other women of the community or fire district.

Caller Announced for Lefooters Dance

Lefooters Square Dance Club will hold a dance Friday at 8 p.m. in Hurley Reformed Church hall, off Route 209. Kip Garvey of North Andover, Mass., will be caller. Garvey is associate club caller for the Lefooters and this will be his first appearance here in that role.

One of the younger square dance callers, Garvey has earned an impressive background during the past nine years. It began in 1964 when he joined the Twilight Twirlers, a teenage club in Andover. From the beginning, he took an interest in calling. Looking for guidance, he joined Paul Pratt's callers' class. On finishing the class, he continued studying with Pratt, who not only coached him, but arranged his first calling dates.

In 1965, he was invited by the Lawrence, Mass., YWCA to be the caller for the Y-L Cats, a teenage club sponsored by the YW. In 1966, he was engaged to be club caller for the Scarlet Squares of Saugus, Mass., which at that time was a new club. In just a few years, Kip Garvey has called for more than 75 different clubs throughout New England, New York and Florida.

Square dance calling became a means to an end when Garvey entered Merrimac College to major in Business Math. He applied all of his calling fees to his college tuition and those fees accounted for about three-fourths of his total tuition costs. He graduated from Merrimac College in June, 1968, and began his teaching career in the Quabog Regional High School that serves Warren and West Brookfield, Mass.

Always searching for information and improvement, he attended the Callers School, East Hill Farm, Troy, N.H. He is a member of the Tri-States Callers Association, Square Dance Callers Association of Southern California, and the New England Council of Callers Associations. A great booster of the New England Square Dance Convention, he served as chairman of the Teen Coordinating Committee for the 1968 convention. His family is also active in square dancing. Along with his parents who began dancing 11 years ago, his wife, two sisters and one brother participate. There is one brother left who does not square dance, but Garvey has been working on him to get him started.

Lefooters are looking forward both to Friday's dance and Kip Garvey's regular monthly appearances with the club. Garvey last called for Lefooters in May, 1972, and club members recall it as one of the best dances of the year. All club level dancers are invited.

Engagement Told

Orange-ified Vegetables...A Sparkling New Idea

When were oranges introduced to this continent?

The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association dug into the history books to tell us that citrus fruits were introduced into several sections of the southeastern United States in the 16th century, while oranges and lemons were cultivated in the mission gardens of Lower California (that is, in Mexico) prior to 1739. Definite record of when the first citrus trees and seeds were planted in what is now California have not been found, but one historian says that the first orange grove of much size was set out in the state at the San Gabriel mission about 1804 by Father Thomas Sanchez.

Have you ever thought of introducing oranges into your vegetable cookery? It's an idea bound to bring tantalizing new flavor sensations.

and it's easy to do with the recipes we have for you today.

Orange-Dilled Carrots make the old favorite vegetable command brand new notice at table. The carrots are cooked and combined with butter, dill, fresh orange sections and grated rind. The taste is as fresh as a spring garden, a real perk-upper done with ease.

Broccoli was never better than when served with a fresh orange sauce rich with sour cream and scented with thyme. Somehow the broccoli's fresh green taste is appreciated anew with this unexpected and delightful flavor partner.

Nothing is more pleasant in winter weather than a crispy, hot slaw to contrast with the robust main dishes of the season. Hot Orange Cabbage is cooked in fresh orange juice accented with grated rind, and there is a surprise scatter of caraway seeds to complete the dish. Really delectable!

Now is the season when oranges are in good quantity at your market. You eat them out of hand, of course, and make marvelous fresh desserts with them. But do try them to enhance your vegetables during this season of oranges in plenty.

Oranges are one of the richest sources of natural vitamin C. One medium (3 inch) Orange has more than enough vitamin C for the recommended dietary allowance for a day, a fine nutrition bonus when you eat this delicious, refreshing fruit.

One teaspoon salt, divided
Two tablespoons butter or margarine
One-half teaspoon dried dill weed
One-half teaspoon grated fresh orange rind
One cup fresh orange sections (four medium oranges)

Place carrots in medium saucepan with one cup water and one-half teaspoon salt. Bring to boil, cover, reduce heat and simmer for 15 minutes, or until tender. Drain. Add remaining one-half teaspoon salt, and remaining ingredients. Stir over low heat for one to two minutes. Makes four servings.

Two tablespoons butter or margarine
Two tablespoons flour
One-half teaspoon grated fresh orange rind
One-half cup fresh orange juice (two medium oranges)
One-half cup sour cream
One-quarter teaspoon dried leaf thyme

Wash broccoli and remove large leaves and tough part of stalks. Separate flowerets or cut into individual spears. Place in a large saucepan with one-half inch boiling water. Cover and simmer for 10 to 12 minutes, until crisp-tender. Meanwhile, melt butter in small saucepan; blend in flour. Stir in remaining ingredients; stir over low heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil.

Drain cooked broccoli well, and serve with orange sauce. Makes four servings.

Hot Orange Cabbage Slaw

Four cups finely shredded cabbage
Three-quarter teaspoon sugar
Three-quarter teaspoon salt
One-half cup fresh orange juice (two medium oranges)
One tablespoon grated fresh orange rind (two medium oranges)
One-half teaspoon caraway seeds

Combine all ingredients in a medium saucepan, cover and cook over medium heat for eight minutes, or until cabbage is wilted and crisp-tender. Makes four servings.

TREAT YOUR DINNER GUESTS to Chicken Kiev. No need to be a gourmet chef; simply roll boned chicken breasts around chilled butter, bread them and saute in butter. Delicious with peas in tomato shells, potatoes, a green salad and milk.

An Elegant Entree...Chicken Kiev

For a change from the usual broiled or pan-fried chicken, serve something different: Chicken Kiev. This elegant chicken entree may be new to your household but it has a long history going back to Imperial Russia. It's featured by some of the world's finest restaurants, and being surrounded by glamour, is usually overlooked by homemakers. Try it and you'll see this gourmet recipe is surprisingly easy to prepare.

It's boned breast of chicken pounded thin to make a "cutlet," the way you pound veal cutlets to make them extra tender and quick-cooking. Roll the chicken pieces around a generous amount of butter, then fasten with a wooden pick or short skewer. Dip them into flour, beaten egg, and fine, dry bread crumbs. Sauté the chicken breasts in butter until golden brown, place in oven for a short time; then serve immediately.

Butter is the key ingredient that gives the dish its superb flavor and tenderness. For best results, both chicken and butter should be icy cold when used. And here's a tip: warn your guests that the melted butter is likely to spurt but when they cut into the chicken. This may save some cleaning bills.

In this up-dated version of the classic Chicken Kiev the chicken is oven-baked for a few minutes to complete the cooking process. Serve with a green vegetable, perhaps buttered peas in tomato shells, and parsley-buttered potatoes, salad and milk. For a delicious variation, try Chicken Kiev with cheese in the center. Swiss and Blue cheese make a delightful combination with each other and with the succulent sautéed chicken.

Chicken Kiev

Three large chicken breasts (12 to 14-oz. each) split, boned and skinned Salt and Pepper
Three-quarter cup (one and one-half sticks) firm butter

Two eggs, slightly beaten
Three tablespoons milk
One-third cup regular all-purpose flour
One cup fine dry bread crumbs
One-half cup (one stick) butter

Place each chicken breast between two pieces of waxed paper; pound with flat side of meat mallet until very thin. Sprinkle each side with salt and pepper. Keeping smooth membrane side of chicken breast toward the working surface, place two tablespoons butter in center of each. Fold over the two short ends, then the long ends. Secure with wooden pick or skewer. Blend eggs and milk. Roll chicken in flour, then in egg mixture. Roll in crumbs, again dip into egg mixture, then again in crumbs. In a large ovenproof skillet melt one-half cup butter. When hot, add chicken breasts, skewered side down; fry five-seven minutes; turn and fry five-seven additional minutes. Place skillet in a preheated 400 degree oven and bake 10 minutes. Remove picks and serve immediately. Makes six servings.

VARIATION

Cheese Filling: Substitute a piece of Swiss cheese one and one-quarter x one and one-quarter x one-half-inch and one teaspoon crumbled Blue cheese for butter in each chicken breast.

NEW JEWELRY DESIGNS — Stanley Hagler holds a doctor of laws degree but he is also an inventive jewelry designer and a much copied one. Blazers for day and caftans for late day are big items in spring ready-to-wear. Hagler's ready with jewelry to go with them. He sneaks an idea from the military and does gold mesh aiguillettes worn pinned to the shoulder (right) with three graduated strands of chain draped under the arm. To go with caftans, Hagler has designed two-tier necklaces, bulky, but not heavy, in a range of vivid colors mixed with nuggets of gold. (UPI)

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
© 1973, Emily Post Institute, Inc.

Dear Mrs. Post:
I'd like your objective and professional point of view on the following:

The son of one of my husband's friends was scheduled to have a bar mitzvah. We went all out in the purchase of the gift. My husband took the gift to their home with a card stating it was from both of us. That evening the phone rang and a voice asked for my husband. I asked who was calling and learned it was the young man. I called my husband to the phone. The boy had called to thank him for the gift. I felt the least he could have done was to say thank you to me and then ask for my husband. Under the circumstances, I felt he was rude and ill-mannered. After the conversation I told my husband that since the young man totally ignored me, I would not go to his bar mitzvah. My husband agreed and said that if I didn't go, he would not go either.

The following day he called and told his friend that we would not attend because of the behavior of his son. The next day the gift was returned with a note saying the gift could not be accepted in good conscience. Please comment.

Mrs. S. H.

Dear Mrs. H.:
Your reaction to the boy's omission when he neglected to thank you for the gift was out of all proportion. You have succeeded in starting a real feud out of what was undoubtedly an oversight as a result of shyness or embarrassment. It was certainly not an intentional slight. Of course the boy should have thanked you, but he probably felt it would be easier to speak to another "man," and was caught off-guard when you answered the phone. He is certainly one jump ahead of many youngsters who don't offer any thanks at all!

If you value this family's friendship, you should call them and admit you were perhaps overly hasty and would like to wish their son the best of everything.

Dear Mrs. Post:
Is it proper to ask people from another state to send a gift to a bridal shower, or do only those present at the shower bring gifts? Should out-of-towners actually be invited even though you know they can't come?

Nancy

Dear Nancy:
A shower, in addition to being an occasion to "show" the bride with presents, is supposed to be a happy social event. It is not at all in the proper spirit to invite people who cannot possibly come, just so that they will send gifts. Restrict your guest list to those who can enjoy your hospitality in return for their obligation to bring a gift.

Skilling to Direct PAW Production; Try-Outs Slated

Performing Arts of Woodstock will hold try-outs for its next production, John van Druen's "I Am a Camera," Friday and Sunday, Jan. 12 and 14, at 7:30 p.m. Upstairs at Deanie's on Mill Hill Road in Woodstock. The play calls for three men and four women. Bill Skilling will direct. Anyone with or without experience who is interested in trying out is encouraged to do so.

"I Am a Camera" is adapted from "The Berlin Stories" of Christopher Isherwood. Reviewer Walter Kerr wrote: "the play looks at life in a tawdry Berlin rooming house of 1930 with a stringently photographic eye. For the most part, it concerns itself with the mercurial and irresponsible moods of a girl called Sally Bowles. When we first meet her, she is a creature of extravagant attitudes. As we get to know her, we are more and more moved and caught up in the complete and almost unbearable reality of this girl."

Those interested in the technical part of theater: set building, costuming, lights, as well as publicity, should also attend the cast-call.

'Force' at Four O'clock in the A.M.

DEAR ABBY: My husband falls into bed dead tired without even kissing me goodnight. Then about 4 o'clock in the morning he wakes me up and forces himself on me without saying a word. After he has satisfied himself he turns over and goes to sleep. All the while I am lying there like a statue. Would you call this statutory rape?

CURIOUS IN FRISCO
DEAR CURIOUS: No. It's more like STATIONARY rape.

DEAR ABBY: In one of your columns you told a girl it was all right for her to smile and wave at truck drivers. Thanks a lot! My husband is a truck driver and all he needs is good looking girls waving and smiling at him all day. He's a good-looking guy, and it doesn't take much to turn him on, and I'd just as soon he didn't make any new friends on his job. Not all truck drivers are alike, but I know my husband better than you do, so watch it, will you, Abby?

THELMA IN PASSAIC
DEAR THELMA: I'll watch it, Thelma.

DEAR ABBY: Never thought I'd be writing to Dear Abby, but after reading the letter from that young girl who asked if it was okay to smile and wave at truck drivers, I had to put in my 2 cents' worth.

I've been married to a truck driver for 19 years. There's not a better husband and father. It's an honorable position and I'm proud of him. Maybe most people aren't aware of this, but 70 per cent of the food they eat and the clothes they wear are delivered by trucks.

If a lady is stranded on the highway, a truck driver will be the first to stop and help her. And speaking of being a lady, my husband stopped to help a couple of so-called "ladies," and they robbed him of all his money.

So tell that gal to keep smiling. I hope she smiles at my truck driver someday, for it's a lonely job and he can use a smile along the way.

KANSAS WIFE

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, 67, living alone in a one-bedroom apartment. The only living relative I have is a sister, Gertrude, 73, married, and very well-to-do. She has been fighting with her husband Sam, who is 75, for as long as I can remember.

For the past year, Gertrude has been coming here in a taxi at all hours of the night asking if she can sleep in the other twin bed because she and Sam had another fight.

Naturally, I let her stay. Sometimes she spends two nights with me until she's sure Sam has calmed off.

Now Sam calls accusing me of "breaking up his home." He says if I didn't let his wife come here to sleep she would stay home where she belongs. The old fool should know that if I didn't let her sleep here she could go to a hotel. She has plenty of money.

Sam says if I let Gertrude sleep here one more night he will cut me out of his will, and his wife's will, too. Can he do that? Please advise me.

LAUDERDALE LADY
DEAR LADY: Tell Sam that when your sister shows up at your door to spend the night with you, you will not refuse to let her in. He can cut you out of his will if he wants to, but he can't cut you out of his wife's.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Morris or Kiick?...Don Shula Isn't Talking

By VITO STELLINO

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Don Shula has a secret, and it's such a closely guarded one that not even his own Miami Dolphins will know it until they show up Sunday for their Super Bowl date with the Washington Redskins.

The Miami coach in answering dozens and dozens of questions this week but he's not letting anyone know whether he's going to start Mercury Morris or Jim Kiick at a running back slot in the Super Bowl.

Even George Allen's spies couldn't find out the answer because Shula hasn't even told Kiick or Morris. "I probably won't know until right before the game and that's just as well because then I won't have time to brood if I don't start," Kiick says.

Shula will only say, "who starts depends on what we're doing in the first series and then we go from there." Shula claims that even he doesn't know which player will wind up seeing more action in the game.

"I'm always looking for the player who has the 'hot hand' and I try to go with him," Shula says. In the Dolphins' 24-3 loss to the Dallas Cowboys in last year's Super Bowl, Morris didn't carry the ball a single play from scrimmage and he made it obvious that he wasn't happy about the situation. Shula seemed to have some second thoughts about it because this year he started alternating Morris with Kiick. Morris, the exciting, outside threat, started most of the games and carried 100 times for 1,000 yards while Kiick, the better blocker and inside runner, carried 137 times for 811 yards. In the AFC title game against Pittsburgh, Morris gained 76 yards in 16 carries while Kiick, although he had only 12 yards in eight carries, bowled over for two touchdowns and did a superb job during the Dolphins' second half surge. Since Kiick also started that game, there's been some speculation that Shula might lean on him more in the crucial situations Sunday.

Allen, the Washington coach, Morris would be more likely to make a mistake than the steadier Kiick. Allen dispels that theory by saying he talked to Shula about trading Morris. "But all I had to offer was draft choices," Allen smiled, "and Don didn't want to wait until 1977." That's only a slight exaggeration since Allen doesn't have a first round pick until 1975.

Morris and Kiick seem to have slightly different attitudes as they wait to learn who will start. Morris said, "I'd like to start but it won't bother me if I don't." Kiick said, "I'll be very disappointed if I don't start."

I've been a starter all my life and it's been difficult to adjust to playing part time." Kiick admitted he sometimes disagrees with Shula's feelings about which player has the "hot hand." He said, "I feel there are certain situations when I should be in there but Shula feels Merc should and that's why he's the coach."

Both clubs went through practice sessions Tuesday as the rain that never falls in Southern California cleared up in time for the players to get outside and then didn't resume until after dusk.

Shula quipped, "Allen says he's never lost in the rain so I guess if it rains Sunday, we'll forfeit." Allen claimed the Dolphins "are the soundest team I've faced in my coaching career," and he even rated them better than the famed 1966 Green Bay team that won the first Super Bowl.

But the oddsmakers, noting Washington gave up only two field goals in two playoff games, still list the Redskins a slight favorite.

Kilmer Thankful to Wooden

ANAHEIM, Calif. (UPI) — "You bet I remember John Wooden," Bill Kilmer said. "I learned discipline under that man."

A dozen years after he played a season of basketball at UCLA, the Washington Redskins' veteran quarterback talked about the coach who has transformed Westwood, the home of UCLA, into the nation's college basketball capital.

"John Wooden is a great basketball coach," Kilmer de-

"This man is an unbelievable organizer. It was a great experience playing on his team. Sometimes I'll never forget."

Ironically, Kilmer is getting ready for his first Super Bowl as the Wizard of Westwood is closing in on another basketball milestone. University of San Francisco's all-time record of 66 straight victories.

Although Kilmer has never been in the Bruins' new home—Pauley Pavilion—he has followed the 62-year-old Wooden's success during the past decade with avid interest. UCLA has won six straight NCAA championships and eight titles in the past nine years.

"John Wooden deserves every championship and every honor he has won," Kilmer said. "He has all my admiration. He's done such a tremendous job. He's got a record that may never be equalled."

"I watch UCLA's basketball team on TV every chance I get and follow them in the papers."

terback was a football player at UCLA first. He was recruited by the Bruins for that sport and played in only six games in his one season under Wooden—1959-60—scoring eight points.

"I was a pretty good basketball player in high school," Kilmer said. "But I'd decided I wanted to give pro football a shot by the time I got to UCLA and you can't excel in both football and basketball."

In his 25th season at UCLA, Wooden has never had a losing year. But it was close in 1959-60. The Bruins finished with a 14-12 record that season and "We had some good players but overall the personnel wasn't really that strong and we had some injury problems."

Wooden has followed Kilmer's basketball career, too, from 1961 when his former guard was selected by the San Francisco 49ers in pro football's first draft round to 1971 when he was picked by his Washington teammates as the Redskins' MVP. To 1973 when he will lead Washington against Miami in a Super Bowl VII.

Staubach Is Pulling for Dolphins

DALLAS (UPI) — Dallas Cowboys quarterback Roger Staubach, who suffered his "biggest disappointment as an athlete" in the NFC title loss to Washington, says he will be pulling for the Miami Dolphins in the Super Bowl because of some post-game remarks made by the Redskins.

Staubach also said he did not consider himself as the Cowboys' No. 1 quarterback at present, but said if he thought he would not be given a chance to compete for the job next fall he would ask to be traded.

His remarks came during an interview on Dallas' Public Broadcast Service television station. Although Staubach never mentioned him by name, he was obviously displeased with quotes attributed to Washington tackle Diron Talbert. The remarks concerned the fact that some Redskins were happy that Staubach started against them in the championship game instead of Craig Morton because they felt Dallas would be easier to defeat with Staubach in charge.

"One of them (who made the comments) during the game has a brother on our team," said Staubach. Diron's brother, Don, is a member of the Cowboys' squad.

"I guess there is some bitterness. I guess he's not crazy about me, and I'm not crazy about him. But that is just bush-league talk. He should have come out and said that before the game."

"I'm going to be a big Dolphin fan Sunday. I think that when you win a football game you savor it, and you don't talk a lot about it."

"I was bugged a little some by the things they said. There were the two-percenters who didn't know how to handle the win. I'm glad we got to play them twice next year."

Staubach hinted that "there is a lot of scuttlebutt going around," about possible player changes in Dallas, but he consistently said he hoped to be playing for the Cowboys again next year.

"I'm going to strive to do everything I possibly can to play for the Dallas Cowboys," he said. "I don't think right now I have earned the right to be the No. 1 quarterback."

"After the Super Bowl last year, I thought I deserved the right to start. But right now I anticipate competing for the job, and I'm going to give it everything I've got."

"If I was told today that I would not have a chance to win the No. 1 quarterback spot, then I would ask to be traded."

There was no reason to believe Coach Tom Landry would not put Staubach and Morton on equal footing at the opening of training camp later this year.

At about this time last year, with Staubach in command, Morton said he wanted to stay with Dallas because it would take two experienced quarterbacks to take a team to the championship level. Staubach said if he had been in Morton's place, he might not have taken the same attitude.

"I have a lot of respect for Rare Shipu."

Craig," Staubach said. "He had a lot of respect for him."

Landry chose Staubach over off the field, we have not Morton to start in Dallas' 26-3 loss to the Redskins.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI) — Bart Starr is quitting pro football after 17 years.

Starr announced Wednesday, his 39th birthday, he will retire from the game to go into business.

It was the toughest choice of his career, he said, but added he owed it to himself and his family to leave the game.

"I simply decided to pursue a career in the business world rather than football," he said.

The decision wasn't made any easier by lucrative offers for head coaching jobs with other clubs, one of which was during the last few years of his 16-year career as Packer quarterback.

Baseball Draft

First Pick For Phillies

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's tailend Phillies had the first choice today in baseball's annual winter draft of free agent prospects with a couple of infielders, Alan Bannister of Arizona State and Michigan State's Brad Van Pelt, an All-American football player, expected to be among the first players chosen.

The 24 major league teams were linked to Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's midtown offices via conference telephone hook-up for the winter draft which has produced some first-rate talent in past years.

The Phillies earned first choice in the regular phase by the slim margin of a single percentage point. That's how far Philadelphia finished behind San Diego in the composite National League standings. The draft's regular phase order of selection is determined by inverse order of the previous season's standings with the leagues alternating on the first choice.

Philadelphia also owned the opening choice in the secondary phase of the draft, a privilege determined by drawing. The Texas Rangers chose second in both phases.

Bannister and Van Pelt are both former No. 1 selections of the California Angels. Both rejected large bonus offers to continue playing collegiate ball. Now Bannister has left Arizona State and Van Pelt is a senior at Michigan State and both are expected to be ready for the move to professional ball. Both were likely to be gone, however, by the time the Angels, No. 8 in the draft roll call, had their chance to choose.

The winter draft, always considerably smaller than its summer counterpart, has produced a host of familiar big league names in the seven years it has been in operation. Included among them are Tom Seaver, Carlton Fisk, Ken Singleton, Dave LaRoche, Garry Maddox, Chris Speier, Chris Chambliss, and Bert Blyleven. Between 200 and 300 players were expected to be chosen by the major league teams and their minor league affiliates. If a player does not sign with the team drafting him in a specified period of time, he becomes a free agent again, returning to the pool of draft eligibles. That's what happened to California with Bannister and Van Pelt.

White Flowers For Clemente

SAN JUAN, P.R. (UPI) —

The ecumenical service to be held Jan. 14 in memory of the Pittsburgh Pirates' ace right-fielder, Roberto Clemente, and the four men who died with him on a mercy flight Dec. 31, will include dropping five wreaths of white flowers in the Atlantic Ocean, where Clemente's flight crashed.

Plans for the service, which will begin at 11 a.m. (EST) at Hiram Bithorn Municipal Stadium, where Clemente often played in the island's Winter League, were announced Tuesday by the office of San Juan Catholic Archbishop Luis Aponte Martinez.

The service, which will last 1 1/2 hours, will begin with a procession by dozens of children dressed in white, who will carry masses of white flowers to form a cross in the park's right field.

The official release on the ceremony said the purpose of the service, to be telecast island-wide over WAPA-TV, "is to show the hopeful thanks to Roberto Clemente, who has turned into a spiritual leader of our people, without discounting his four companions. The ceremony will take place in Hiram Bithorn Stadium, where Roberto showed us how to be responsible men and ideal sportsmen."

KHS Was Just Plain Cold

KINGSTON

In a lot of ways Kingston High School played its best basketball of the season Tuesday night. But in one most crucial area the Maroons were horrendous and as a result they fell to DCSL leading Roosevelt, 55-38, in the Kate Walton Field House.

That one big blot on the Kingston ledger was the field goal shooting department. KHS was a poor 24.5 per cent on 13 made of 53 attempted and that, my friends, is not a winning pace.

So Kingston managed to improve a bit on its frequency of throwing the ball away, it rebounded admirably against a bigger team, and it had some good opportunities to score. But KHS simply couldn't find the range.

"I told the team they lost to a first place club and shouldn't have anything to be ashamed of," said Kingston coach Mike Rienzo, after he had held a brief meeting with his squad. "I thought we did the best we've done all season against the press. We made a few mistakes, but it's the best we've handled it."

"We got beat underneath and we were cold," he concluded.

Rienzo's appraisal was accurate, except that his team didn't do all that poorly on the boards considering Roosevelt's front line went 6-5, 6-4, 6-3.

The big man of that group, Theral Summers, was rarely heard from all night, his coach Jerry Marquardt sitting him down after Kingston's Cory Chambers had held him in line. But another of the Presidents' forwards, 6-4 blonde John Swart was dynamite both rebounding and shooting. His 25 points were the difference.

Roosevelt didn't shoot that well either, only 38.5 per cent from the field, and that's why it wouldn't have taken much of an offensive effort from Kingston to alter the final result.

But after Kingston had managed to stay within three in the first half (23-20), it took the locals three minutes and 38 seconds of the third quarter to add to their point total. In the mean time, Rhinebeck had built up a 32-20 lead.

Kingston held its own throughout the rest of the period, trailing only 38-29 going into the final frame. But the cold spell at the outset of the third quarter looked like nothing in comparison to what happened in the fourth period for by the time Dave Decker popped in a jumper from behind the key for KHS' first bucket, a full five minutes 56 seconds had past.

That's right. Only 2:04 showed on the clock when Decker put in his two-pointer and by that time Roosevelt had taken control, 51-29.

Decker, incidentally, played well while he was in there and scored five of his seven points in that final 2:04 on the one basket and four free throws. He might get a starting assignment Friday at Poughkeepsie.

The reduced turnover total especially pleased Rienzo. The Maroons let the ball get away 22 times, not very good really, but when you've averaged 26 a game every little bit helps. "We had a good first half and we showed a little more composure," Rienzo pointed out. "We coming."

REBOUNDS — Chambers had the fans cheering when he made a nifty block of a Kevin Barry hook shot. Kingston is 1-3 in the league, 1-4 overall. . . . The little Maroons won their fourth in five tries, coming from behind to beat Roosevelt, 46-43, on the strength of Lou Eccleston's 17 points.

Sawyers Need a Leader

By DON TREAT

SAUGERTIES

WANTED: A team leader for the Saugerties High basketball team. Individual must be willing to accept responsibility of taking charge during clutch situations. Please apply to coach Larry Marcus before Friday night's game at Ketcham.

The Sawyer coach would gladly place this ad after watching his team lose its third straight DCSL game here Tuesday night, a 57-51 crusher to Lourdes.

"We don't penetrate and get good shots," lamented Marcus. "We do have an offense but we weren't running it out there tonight."

Saugerties was surprisingly in the thick of the action despite playing downright poor basketball most of the time. Trailing by nine at the half, the Sawyers stormed back to within two at 34-32, early in the third quarter.

John Williams and Jim McGuirk then demonstrated what team leaders are. The Warriors senior duo proceeded to score 20 of Lourdes final 33 points.

"McGuirk and Williams finally got together good games for us," conceded winning coach Dick Beams. "This is the best

"It's a good thing Saugerties wasn't shooting well though," Beams continued, "because they got an awful lot of shots."

They weren't the right kind of shots as far as Marcus was concerned. "We forced it up from outside," said the Sawyer boss shaking his head. "It's just the case of a young team not playing together or looking for each other."

Then came the magic words. "We need a team leader."

A team leader would not turn Saugerties into DCSL contenders but it would at least give the team the consistency it so desperately lacks.

Penella and Chris Luley, got the ball more often.

A total of 28 turnovers had Marcus shaking his head again. "It's very frustrating to sit through a game where we make so many stupid mistakes."

Williams late surge made him by far the top scorer with 20 points, while teammate McGuirk chipped in with 14. Williams had 13 of his points in the final period.

The meager Sawyer attack featured Bill Maines and Luley, each with 10 points. Luley shot well in the first half but saw little action after that because Marcus thought his defensive play was lacking.

Joe Heilenschmidt was the sole player Marcus could find praise for. "Heilenschmidt did a good job on the boards despite a bad ankle. He really gutted it."

Falling deeper into the DCSL cellar, Saugerties will not find the way out against a team like Ketcham after losing to Lourdes. The Sawyers, 0-3 in the league and 2-3 overall, will find tough sledding Friday night even if it does snow before then.

The Warriors, who have a 2-2 DCSL mark, aren't going too much farther than Saugerties is this year. After a tussle with non-league Newburgh on Friday, Lourdes will face the league powers, Beacon, John Jay, and Poughkeepsie.

The Sawyer jayvees won a 38-36 thriller over Lourdes in action before the varsity game. Scoot Hunter again led Saugerties with 14 points. Mike Kelley was high man for the Warriors with 13.

Rhinebeck Moves Streak to Four

RHINEBECK honors for Rhinebeck with 21 points.

Cruising along atop the Bi-Valley section of the DCSL, Rhinebeck High School made it four straight Tuesday by defeating visiting Webutuck, 76-53.

Paul Kane, the league's scoring leader, turned a 20-point night to lead the Indians. Rhinebeck jumped out to a fast 22-4 first quarter and kept Webutuck at bay the rest of the way. Mark Siebold added 14 points and Eliot Sussin dumped in 10 to aid the winners' cause.

Ed Brewer had 15 points to pace Webutuck which remained in last place with its fourth defeat of the year.

The junior varsity matchup was a little closer with the junior Indians prevailing, 44-41. Mark Johnson took scoring

Sawyer Matmen Trounce Haldane Team, 52-4

COLD SPRING

Saugerties High School's wrestlers had a long bus ride to get here for a match with Haldane but the trip back was made a bit shorter by the Sawyers' overwhelming 52-4 victory.

Haldane won only one match, John Rinaldo's 132-pound decision over Jim Quisnell. The rest of the time it was Saugerties.

Kevin Sheehan, Dean Limeri, Frank Lombardo, John Lack, and Charles Van Gasbeck were winners by decision and Rich Duvall, Bob Heineck, and Bob Mayone scored by falls. Three Sawyers, Chris Warfel, Joe Moshier, and Bill Landell accepted forfeit triumphs.

The 3-1 Saugerties grapplers next face Ketcham on Friday at Home.

52 for Archibald, A Loss for the Kings

By United Press International
Nate Archibald scored enough for two games Tuesday night but in the end it went down as just another notch in the loss column for the Kansas City-Omaha Kings.

Archibald, one of the smallest players in the National Basketball Association at just under 6 feet, poured in 52 points in a losing effort Tuesday night as the New York Knicks rallied with 10 seconds to go in overtime to win 116-115.

Archibald, the league's leading scorer, sparked a 35-17 third quarter burst that rallied the Kings from a 20-point deficit. But Phil Jackson tied the game with 12 seconds left in regulation time as he hit a jump shot from the corner and Dave DeBusschere drove for the winning layup with 10 seconds left to provide the victory.

DeBusschere and Earl Monroe had 24 points each as the Knicks while Sam Lacey added 26 for the Kings.

Elsewhere, Golden State beat Detroit 105-98, Atlanta topped Houston 120-114, Baltimore downed Portland 105-93, Buffalo edged Cleveland 106-102, and Chicago ripped Philadelphia 126-110.

Rick Barry's 28 points and 17 rebounds carried the Warriors over Detroit and left Golden State only two games behind Los Angeles in the Pacific Division race. Barry received a cut inside his right ear in the first quarter after an altercation with Fred Foster.

Barry elbowed past Foster toward the basket and Foster replied by decking Barry with a punch.

"If I elbowed him in the face, it was unintentional," Barry said. "I thought I hit him in the chest. He was all over me and I wanted to show him I wasn't going to take any of it. I didn't see the punch coming—I just felt it."

Foster was ejected from the game and Coach Ray Scott lodged a protest. "Foster was only defending himself," Scott said. "It's time the officials stop taking away our aggressiveness."

Jeff Mullins added 21 points for the Warriors while Curtis Rowe was high man for Detroit with 27.

Pete Maravich, selected earlier in the day as an All-Star game starter for the first time in his career, took part in 13 of Atlanta's last 14 points in leading the Hawks over the Rockets. With the score tied at 106-106 and 5:10 left, Maravich scored nine points and assisted on two other baskets to lift the Hawks to victory. Maravich finished with 12 assists.

Rookie Kevin Porter came off the bench to score 15 points and lead the Bullets over Portland. Baltimore trailed by two points when Porter replaced the injured Flynn Robinson and provided the spark to win.

Elvin Hayes led Baltimore with 23 points while Geoff Petrie had 30 for the Trail Blazers.

Bob McAdoo and Elmore Smith hit 22 points each as Buffalo topped Cleveland and Chicago, with Garfield Heard hitting 27 points and Bob Love and Chet Walker contributing 20 each, easily beat the 76ers.

Injury Dims Carolina Win

By United Press International
The Carolina Cougars stretched their winning streak to 11 games, longest in the American Basketball Association this season, Tuesday night but it may cost them in the long run.

The Cougars, who hold a three-game lead over Kentucky in the battle for first place in the Eastern Division, downed the New York Nets 110-97 Tuesday night behind a 30-point performance by Steve Jones.

But Joe Caldwell, Carolina's high-jumping forward, suffered a strained knee ligament and his status for the near future is in doubt. Caldwell was hurt in the first minute of play.

"I'm concerned about Joe," said Cougar Coach Larry Brown. "I hope it isn't serious. It's better to rest it now before it does get serious. When you lose a great player like that, it's bound to hurt. But I'm confident Ed Manning can step in and do the job. Manning is a good rebounder, can play defense... we've used him in the pivot and at forward wherever we've needed him. I think he's better than any sub in the league based on what he does for us."

Billy Cunningham added 19 points and Mack Calvin hit 16 for Carolina while rookie Brian Taylor was high man for New York with 24.

In other ABA action, Kentucky kept pace by beating Virginia 113-106, Utah rallied to defeat Memphis 115-111 and San Diego beat Denver 113-109.

Coleman Finds the Right Combination

By STEVE KANE

KINGSTON — A combination of good defense and good offense is hard to beat in any sport. New Paltz High School found that out Tuesday night when the Huguenots paid a visit to Coleman. For defense, Coleman had a zone press, and for offense it had Phil Palladino.

Palladino sizzled from everywhere for a career high 38 points and a new school single game scoring record as the Statesmen rolled to their sixth consecutive UCL basketball victory, 71-42. But coach Bill DuBois said: "I was satisfied with the defense."

Not that he was complaining about Coleman's 43 per cent team shooting or Palladino's 52 per cent clip that surpassed the old record of 31 points set by Don Hastings in 1971, but he was more pleased with his sticky-fingered defenders who stole 19 Huguenot passes during the game and forced many more turnovers.

Coleman didn't waste any time getting started. Palladino hit the first hoop off the opening tip, then the aggressive Statesmen capitalized on four straight New Paltz turnovers to run up a 10-0 lead before four minutes had elapsed. At the quarter it was 20-8, and were it not for several traveling violations, it would have been higher.

A cold wave hit both teams in the second period. The teams shared 17 points between them, and it was a 28-17 game at the break.

The tempo in the second half picked up considerably, and so did Palladino. He netted 24 during the last two periods, 14 of them in the fourth quarter. New Paltz, when it was able to break the press and bring the ball into forecourt, had trouble penetrating Coleman's zone and seldom got clear for good shots.

Frank Davis, the New Paltz coach, just lamented his team's inconsistency after the game. The Hugies gave Marlboro a tough battle in their previous outing, but they could never get together enough to threaten the Statesmen. Forward Bucky Sutter, who has broken the 20-point mark a couple of times this season, could only manage eight points. Mike Clinton led the losers with nine, five of them on foul shots. New Paltz got 16 of its points from the free throw line hitting at a slightly higher clip than its 26 per cent field goal shooting. That was the result of 27 fouls called on the Statesmen as four Coleman players left the game with five personals.

"I don't mind the fouls that much," said DuBois. "When you play that kind of a defense you expect them. I was more pleased with the steals we made. We had 28 turnovers, but figure in those 19 steals and you come up with a pretty good game."

Dubois headed off the question of why he left most of his starters in the game, including Palladino, right to the end. "Three years ago I can remember going into the fourth quarter of a game 25 points in front of New Paltz. It turned out to be a three-point game. Frank Davis knows that. We weren't trying to run the score up on them."

Tim Mahoney collected 10 points and was the only other Statesman to hit double figures. Contributing to the win, however, were John Geuss, Ron Weber and John Carr who made the defense click. Dick Terlingen put in a good reserve performance and scored six points.

New Paltz will go into Northern Division competition now with an 0-3 record. The Hugies face Ontario next while Coleman heads into the South against Highland.

The JV contest also went to Coleman. Phil Timbrouck scored 17 points and Dan Mahoney added 14 as the little Statesmen picked up their sixth win, 59-37. Lorenzo Simmons paced New Paltz with 14.

The Dukes Aren't Being Overlooked Now

KINGSTON — For a team many people overlooked in pre-season predictions, Marlboro High School's Iron Dukes are doing very well in the UCL's basketball race. Very well indeed.

The Southern Ulster quintet under the direction of bright young Coach Joe Ciampi kept pace with undefeated Coleman Tuesday night, routing Walkkill, 77-47. It was the eighth win in a row for Marlboro, its fifth in the league, and puts the Dukes a half game behind Coleman's 6-0 in the Southern Division.

Ellenville and Red Hook are knocking on the door too. The Ellies handed Pine Bush its 33rd straight loss, 84-44, and Rod Chando's Raiders trimmed Ontario, 68-49. Both Ellenville and Red Hook are 4-1 in the Southern race.

The only Southern loser on Tuesday's card was Highland (2-2) which fell before Northern Division leader Liberty, 77-44. Liberty, in fact, is the only Northern team with a winning record. The Redskins are 3-1, their closest rivals being 1-4 Ontario. The other four teams in the division are looking for their first victory.

Marlboro got strong offensive work from its front line as Jim Pagano netted 21 points, Denny Pesavento added 17, and Mike Moriello canned 13. Meanwhile, guard Charlie Jones kept the Walkkill defense honest by throwing in 13 points of his own.

Despite all this, the Dukes had to come from behind. Walkkill grabbed an 18-14 first quarter lead and had visions of a major upset. But then the Marlboro defense came alive and the Panthers were through.

Ralph Calderon's 11 points paced the losers. Ellenville sent visiting Pine Bush reeling in the first quarter, piling up 28 points to the Bushmen's four. All that was left for the Ellies to do was to ride out the clock from there on in.

Leon Ware's 23 points headed the Blue Devil attack while Bob Pirog scored 10 for the hapless Pine Bush club.

Ontario tried to slow Red Hook down and it worked for awhile as the first quarter ended in a 14-14 tie. But after that "we kept them off balance," said Raider coach Chando, and the Indians were no match for Red Hook.

Ontario was down by ten at the half and still had a shot at a comeback, but Red Hook's improved defense shut out OCS for four minutes of the third quarter to clinch the contest.

Kevin Kelly was the big gun for the Raiders with 22 points and 18 rebounds. Bob Terwilliger scored 15 for Ontario. Ivan Richards of Liberty had his long awaited night in the sun as he scored 30 points while the Redskins were disposing of Highland.

The win was a confidence builder for Liberty which had yet to be successful on the road. Frank Diodato's nine points led Highland.

One non-league game Tuesday saw powerful Monticello crush Rondout Valley, 98-42.

The Monties had four men in double figures headed by Kelly Young with 26 and Chris Cummings with 24. Monticello outscored Rondout 81-30 over the last three periods.

Brian Burr scored 11 for the Ganders.

Overtime Loss for Hawks

NEW PALTZ — Those basketball players at New Paltz State can't possibly deserve all the grief they've suffered this season but game after incredible game they just keep absorbing more of the same.

You might find it hard to believe, but New Paltz lost yet another overtime contest Tuesday night, its second of the season, and 13th game in all of which 12 have gone down to the wire, as Yeshiva University of New York City came away from Elting Gym with a 79-76 decision.

So how'd it happen this time? Well, this time New Paltz played rather uninspired ball for much of the first half but managed to stay within range of an average Yeshiva team.

Trailing 38-32, New Paltz regrouped after intermission and caught up. Most of the second half consisted of Yeshiva taking the lead and the Hawks staying within range.

In the extra session Yeshiva simply outplayed New Paltz. No mistakes by the Hawks, although Glenn Hudson and Bob Lucas did foul out. Just Jim Haber scored eight points and Dave Wilzig hitting for four and the visitors had enough to win the ball game.

game high 27 points. Lucas added 16. Wilzig scored 19 for Yeshiva and Haber bagged 16 for the 3-6 Mighty Mites.

New Paltz is 2-13 and has until Feb. 1 to prepare for the visit of Brockport and its 34-point scorer Ron Gilliam.

Down by two, 66-64, with 23 seconds remaining in regulation time, the Hawks brought the ball up for one shot and made it a good one as Artie Shapiro led Mike Callaghan up the middle for a layup to tie the game. Six seconds remained, but the visiting Mighty Mite failed to win it before the buzzer so it was on to overtime.

Marquette Is Struggling, But Its Streak Goes On

By United Press International

Things continue to break right for the Marquette Warriors...but how long can it last?

The third-ranked Warriors, who have not lost at Milwaukee Arena since 1967, scored their 81st consecutive homecourt victory Tuesday night by beating Loyola of Illinois 82-77 but once again had a major struggle.

Loyola, which hasn't really been in the major college basketball picture since it won the NCAA championship in 1963, battled Marquette on even terms for practically the entire game and trailed by only two points, 79-77, with six seconds to play.

The Ramblers then were forced into fouling in an attempt to get the ball, but the Warriors' Allie McGuire converted one free throw and Marcus Washington added two more to wrap up the contest.

It was the fourth straight close shave for Marquette, which has not lost this season in 11 games. The Warriors beat Wisconsin in double overtime by two points in the finals of the Milwaukee Classic on Dec. 30 and scored successive one-point victories over Butler and DePaul last week.

The hardest part of the Warriors' schedule comes in their next three games. On Saturday they meet Notre Dame at the home, next Tuesday they face seventh-ranked Minnesota on the road and a week from Saturday they entertain 20th-ranked South Carolina.

In the only other action involving top ranked teams Tuesday night, second-ranked Maryland defeated Virginia 93-74 and 16th-ranked Indiana downed Miami of Ohio 60-58.

If Marquette Coach Al McGuire was pleased at anything Tuesday night, it would be the Warriors' balanced scoring attack. The Warriors had three players score 20 or more points, with George Frazier getting 21 and Maurice Lucas and Larry McNeill 20 each. Loyola's Nate Hayes had 23 points and Ernie Lewis added 22.

Len Elmore, whom many coaches feel is more valuable to Maryland than 6-foot-11 Tom McMillen, scored 19 points and grabbed 17 rebounds to spark the Terrapins to their 10th victory without a loss. Virginia's Barry Parkhill, the Atlantic Coast Conference's leading scorer a year ago, managed only two points against Maryland's aggressive defense and fouled out with 8:04 remaining.

Mat Victory For Kingston

HYDE PARK — Wil Ortiz, John Olive, and Jim Reedy remained undefeated Tuesday as Kingston High School posted its first wrestling victory of the season, 32-18, over Roosevelt High.

Kingston is 1-4 overall, 1-1 in the Dutchess County Scholastic League.

Ortiz, who hasn't lost a dual match in three years of varsity competition, outpointed Bob Miller in the 112-pound class, 14-1. 132 pound Olive trimmed Mark Foglietta, 6-5, and 138 pound Reedy pinned Don Lehan in 3:50.

Other KHS winners were Bill Petramale, Lyle Schuler, Andy Kaufman, and Paul Martino.

Kingston has a home meet Friday afternoon against Pine Plains.

Rod Chando's 196 Points Tops in SAA Cage Loop

SAUGERTIES — Rod Chando's 47-point explosion in his last outing enabled him to regain the individual scoring leadership with 196 points in eight games in the Saugerties AA basketball league. He is hitting an average of 24.3 per game. He is also runnerup to Mike Derrenbacher in assists with 22.

John Kelly is runnerup with 172 points and 21.5 average. Others in the top five are: John Naccarato 153, Mike Derrenbacher 145 and Dan Heppner 141.

Don Komosa leads in rebounds with 120, with Ray Lindhorst runnerup at 95. Derrenbacher's 38 assists pace the league with Chando second at 22.

Heppner is the most accurate foul shooter with 83 per cent on 49 for 59. Dick Benjamin

Army Cagers

Host Scranton

WEST POINT Coach Dan Dougherty's Army basketball team, coming off perhaps its best performance of the season in a victory over Lafayette, entertains the University of Scranton Saturday night at the Army field house. Game time is 8 p.m.

With team captain Bob Sherwin (Anaheim, Calif.), scoring 34 points and junior forward Ed Dlugolski (Cromwell, Conn.), adding 20 points, the Cadets trimmed Lafayette 73-66 for Army's third victory of the season against seven defeats.

Sherwin's performance was his best of the season, and the 34-point total moves him within striking distance of the 1000-point plateau. The Army captain has scored 973 points in his varsity career and he could very well notch his 1000th point against Scranton. Dlugolski's 20 points was a career high for the Cadet forward.

The Army quintet is one of eight varsity teams which will be in action Saturday as the winter schedule resumes in earnest after the Christmas holiday break.

Army's hockey team tangles with Providence College Saturday night at Smith Rink, meeting the Friars for the 19th time. The Cadets are currently 5-1, after dropping a 6-4 decision to St. Nick's Hockey Club in an exhibition Saturday. The Cadets traveled to Williams College Tuesday afternoon.

George Clark is Army's leading scorer after six games with 13 goals and eight assists for 21 points. He scored three more goals in Army's exhibition loss to St. Nick's Saturday.

Saturday afternoon's schedule will be a busy one. The rifle and pistol teams start things off at 1:30 p.m. at the Cadet range.

Hackett Team Leads in Legion

KINGSTON

Lamouree-Hackett Post 72 bowlers swept Lloyd Post 3-0, while Kingston Post No. 1 edged Kingston No. 2, 2-1, to give the Sawyer keggers a two and a half game lead in the Ulster County American Legion bowling league.

In other matches, Marlborough No. 2 blanked Marlborough No. 1, 3-0; Sullivan-Schafer edged Rosendale-Tillson, 2-1; and Town of Ulster shut out Town of Olive, 3-0.

Ken O'Connor of Saugerties fired the top series of 235-592. Other high scorers: Earl Martin 557, Al Sonnenberg 562, Laurin Abrams 215-549, Walt Worden 349, Jack Spader 204-537. Lamouree-Hackett took down both team marks with 968 and 2627.

Author Slated As Speaker

HUNTER Alf Evers, well-known author of the recently published book "The Catskills," will be the guest speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Mountaintop Historical Society at the Hunter Elementary School.

The meeting begins at 8 p.m., and all interested persons are invited to attend. Evers, an internationally known author, lecturer and authority on the Catskill Mountain region, will discuss the history of the

The Hunter Elementary School is located on Route 23-A between Tannersville and Lexington.

The Mountaintop Historical Society was formed four months ago, and has a present membership enrollment of more than 200. Its president is Rev. Ronald Flemming.

The society's meetings are normally held on the fourth Thursday of every month.

U.S., Greece Sign Pact

ATHENS (AP)—About 10,000 U.S. Navy personnel and their families will be making Greece their overseas home under an agreement signed here Monday despite the opposition of a congressional committee.

The agreement, good for five years, lets six U.S. destroyers and an aircraft carrier of the 6th Fleet use the port of Eleusis, 14 miles west of Athens, as their home port.

The U.S. and Greek governments agreed on the pact last year, but its signing was delayed until after the U.S. presidential elections. Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic candidate, opposed the agreement and also said he would cut off all military aid to Greece because of the military dictatorship ruling the country.

A U.S. House Foreign Affairs subcommittee last month urged that the Navy find a home port for the ships outside Greece. Attacking the Greek government as a dictatorship, it said the agreement would be "a serious disservice to American relations with the Greek people" and would harm U.S. relations with other allies.

Your Horoscope

Thursday, January 11

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning is fine for making serious plans for getting ahead in the ways that are most vital to your welfare and happiness. The afternoon and evening are good for taking chances and it is then best to build up your health and vitality by taking treatments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It is wise to handle important affairs in the morning since others are not very receptive after or you meet with many delays. Make your plans early and follow through cleverly. Relax at home tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make the right arrangements so that you can carry through with a special plan you have successfully. Don't neglect to do your shopping. Keep an eye on your wallet or purse. Count your change.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Contact close ties and gain their cooperation from the plans you have. Avoid the social side for the time being. Concentrate only on the material side of life today. Think constructively and advance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you contact an influential person you know, you get the right slant on how to become more successful. You can get the data you need confidentially. Use it wisely. Relax at home tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A higher-up can inspire you to get going on a new course of action that can be successful, so see this person early. Study carefully data given you in the evening. Take action on it tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) The morning is best time to get tasks completed that you started yesterday, since co-workers are very cooperative. Your hunches are helpful during the day, but don't rely on them tonight. Be cheerful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The mid-morning is the best time to discuss with an associate how to improve a mutual project. Don't wait until the afternoon to do this when the aspects are not so good. You get cooperation early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Early morning is best time to make inroads into a big project, otherwise later in the day you meet only with opposition. Then get wardrobe fixed. Take the health treatments you need for added energy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Planning social and other activities early is fine, but then get busy with routines and get them out of the way. Don't criticize others or you get into trouble. Show more devotion to mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle home affairs early and see that all is improved to everyone's satisfaction. The afternoon is fine for improving business conditions. Avoid arguments. Be more cheerful at home. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have co-workers who need your cooperation more now and you should be willing to give it so that the results will be fine. Communications should be handled without further procrastination.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) During the morning you can see clearly how to advance in a financial way and should take the right steps to do so. Take the time to pay bills that are important. Consult with an expert in the afternoon.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

DIRTY WORD: (Q.) There is this girl I like and she likes me. Then there is this friend of mine. He was talking to us at lunch time and he said a nasty word. Should I call her up and tell her he is nasty? If not, tell me what I should do—Friend of a Nice Girl in New Mexico.

(A.) Next time you talk to her, tell her you are sorry your friend used the wrong kind of word while you were talking. But do not label him as a nasty talker. When you are alone with him some time soon, tell him in a friendly way that he shouldn't use words like that in talking to girls—or with anyone, for that matter. It may be a great help to him—not only now but all his life.

INDIAN PROTEST: (Comment) Several months ago an Indian wrote you objecting to people wearing "Indian" clothes. I think it is rather funny to see a person with blond, curly hair wearing a Navaho headband, Sioux vest and Iroquois moccasins. But I certainly am not offended—not in the least. Instead I am deeply honored that they would want to copy us. I do object to the way we are portrayed on TV and in movies. We very rarely if ever started a war with the whites, and when we did it was only to keep from starving or because they were pushing us into an uninhabitable desert. Sometimes a small child visiting the reservation where I live will cry at the first sight of an Indian. His mother or father has to keep telling him, "They won't hurt you." or something similar.

If I were a small child and had looked at television, I think I would be afraid too. That is my only objection.—Bill Buffalo in Florida.

(A.) Thank you for your interesting comment. So far as the past is concerned, it is well-founded. But I believe that with America's awakening consciousness to true values we will see less and less of it.

Already Indians are being portrayed not only on film and tape but also in the press as the true and honorable human beings they are. I approve of this and urge the media to present Indians as they honestly are or were.

Paar's Return...Jittery

NEW YORK (AP) — Conceding Jack Paar is back running a late-night television show in competition with the one he left nearly 10 years ago — NBC's "Tonight" program. His return came Monday night on the ABC television network, where he began the first of his one-week-a-month shows with: "Two separate, equally funny interludes with guests in?" he asked. Informer, he said, "Oh, this is going to be one helluva debut, isn't it?" It was a rocky start for the man who turned NBC's once-shaky "Tonight" show into a huge profit-maker in less than five years. Paar, who left "Tonight" in 1962, lived up to his perennial billing of "unpredictable" in his ABC debut. But he has a long way to go before his new show acquires the lustre of his good old days.

Paar, 54, seemed hesitant and unsure of himself until he swapped quips with Miss Maw and Winters. He lapsed into questionable taste on several occasions, such as when a videotape broke and a floor director motioned to him to keep ad-libbing. "Well, now that we've hired the handicapped, when are we going to bring the real crew?" he asked.

The standard no-trump has a point count range of 16-18 but many good players prefer to reduce it to 15-17. Others use 15-plus to 17-plus or 16-minus to 18-minus, which is about the same thing.

We don't care which you use provided you don't go all out and use 15-18. Use of 15-18 gives you a chance to bid more no-trump but it also muddies the picture.

We use 16-18 with minor adjustments. In particular we are careful not to open no-trump with 18 points and a hand with extra playing potential such as the South hand shown in the box.

South has 18 high card points but also a strong five-card suit that will probably take four tricks by itself.

Thus, we approve heartily of opening one club with the hand in the box and jumping to two no-trump after partner responds one spade.

We also approve of North's raise to three since we hate to hang one trick short of game. In the play, South put up dummy's jack of hearts and let East's queen hold the trick.

He lapsed into questionable taste on several occasions, such as when a videotape broke and a floor director motioned to him to keep ad-libbing. Admiral Moorer Gives Testimony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's highest ranking military man has told a House committee he was not consulted before the United States launched the heaviest bombing strikes of the Indochina war against the North Vietnamese heartland Dec. 17.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, appeared Tuesday before the House Armed Services Committee. Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., said Moorer testified he was not consulted by the White House either in October, when the bombing was halted, or in December, when it was resumed.

Harrington said Moorer told the committee a contingency plan was drawn up for massive B52 strikes against the heartland of North Vietnam and was placed into effect on presidential order without consultation with the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Asked at a news conference after the closed briefing whether the President had given him any explanation or justification when he ordered the contingency plan put into effect, Moorer said, "None. The restriction that had been placed on bombing (north of the 20th Parallel) was simply lifted."

Moorer, equipped with charts and aerial photographs, spent the day briefing House military committees on the bombing strategy in an effort to stifle mounting complaints from congressmen that they were not being kept informed about the status of the war.

Harrington said it was "very painfully obvious" that Moorer's assignment was to cover the "ill-concealed scorn" the administration holds for Congress. He said he personally was not satisfied with the briefing because of Moorer's limited role in the decisions that led to the resumption of the bombing.

But Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Rep. Sam Stratton, D-N.Y., said they were impressed with Moorer's three-hour briefing, and his contention that the bombing was a major military success.

"We don't have to know why," Hebert said, when asked about Moorer's lack of information about the reasons for the bombing. "It was a question of what was done."

Hebert said, "We brought 'em to the conference table by bombing and we brought 'em back by bombing. If bombing is necessary, bomb."

China Missile Strength... Sen. Symington 'Surprised'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., says he is "surprised and shocked" to learn from secret intelligence testimony how close China is to becoming a "superpower" in the field of missiles.

However, China watchers in Hong Kong, who have long noted China's deployment of medium and intermediate range missiles capable of hitting parts of Russia and much of Asia, said they were not surprised at all at the label.

Symington made the statement Tuesday at a Senate Armed Services Committee hearing on the nomination of Elliott L. Richardson to be secretary of defense. He said the outgoing director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Richard Helms, had given the committee new information about Chinese capabilities at a closed briefing Monday.

"I was very surprised and shocked to find out how close another power is to becoming a superpower from the standpoint of missiles," Symington told Richardson. He later told UPI the country involved was China, but he declined to give more details.

"This to me reduces the practical effects of SALT (Strategic Arms Limitation Talks)," Symington told the hearing. China is not a member of the talks seeking to limit the U.S. and Soviet nuclear arms race.

Defense Secretary Melvin R.

Laird said Monday that "the Chinese are moving forward rapidly... to develop an ICBM (intercontinental ballistic missile)."

Pentagon sources said the Chinese have recently begun deploying missiles with a range of about 3,500 statute miles—sufficient to reach Moscow—and Laird said Monday that Peking is moving "rapidly" to deploy more.

China also has at least two dozen shorter range missiles which could hit major cities of the Far East and Southeast Asia plus targets in Siberia and the central and southern Soviet Union—but not the population heartland of the Soviet Union. These were installed in 1971.

China has launched space satellites and has conducted nuclear tests since 1964. The Institute for Strategic Studies in London said in 1972 that China had enough fissionable material for 120 nuclear weapons. The Chinese have no intercontinental bomber force but have 30 to 60 medium bombers with 1,500 mile range.

Observers in Hong Kong noted that compared with the United States and Soviet Union, China is just on the threshold of nuclear weaponry. They noted, however, that it is not numbers of weapons which count but the effect on the world's balance of power.

"In a way it affects Washington just as much if China has the capability—and I am not saying intention—to hit Moscow, Tokyo or even South Vietnam," said one.

18 Russian MIGs Delivered to Syria

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union delivered 18 MIG jet fighters to Syria only weeks before the outbreak of the new Syrian-Israeli air battles, U.S. intelligence sources report.

The fighter planes were landed last month by three Soviet cargo ships in what is described as the biggest sea shipment of Russian war materiel to Syria in 1972.

Included were 16 MIG 21s, two older MIG 17s and four helicopters, which, according to U.S. experts, brought to about 35 the number of MIG 21s Russia sent to Syria last year.

The MIG21 is rated as the best interceptor provided by Russia to its Arab and other allies.

Russia began a major build-up of Syria's military equipment last summer. This came after Egyptian President Anwar Sadat ordered thousands of Russian advisors to leave his country because, it was reported, Soviets would not give Egypt advanced offensive weapons, including bombardment missiles, to threaten Israel.

The Soviet Union sought to strengthen its position with the Damascus government in case the Russian fleet was forced to give up important bases in Egypt. The Syrian port of Latakia is regarded as an alternative.

Although the Soviet-Egyptian spiff never widened to that point, the Russians have continued to pump military hardware into Syria, apparently as insurance.

Meanwhile, Israel has carried out a series of punitive attacks against Syria which it accused of sheltering guerrilla bands raiding Israeli border settlements.

In the latest air battles this week, accompanying stiff ground fighting, Israel claims to have bagged six Syrian jets without any losses of its own. The Syrians have counter-claimed that four Israeli planes were downed and have acknowledged only three Syrian jets destroyed.

Phase 3 Wage Controls... Nixon Nearing Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is nearing a final decision on the shape of Phase 3 wage-price controls amid indications the new economic rules may be imposed before April 30, when the old ones expire.

In fact, some officials hinted that the President may decide to put Phase 3 into effect within a few weeks, around the time that a new budget and his new economic message go to Congress.

The White House said Nixon, after receiving recommendations from his economic advisers Tuesday morning, "very possibly" will make a final decision on the new wage-price-control system this week.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler ruled out any controls at the farm-produce level, but otherwise gave no details on how the new system would look.

In past weeks, administration economic policy-makers have hinted that rent controls might be dropped in Phase 3 because they are too burdensome, that the profit-margin restraint would be lightened on businesses, and that coverage of the program might be limited to the nation's largest businesses and labor unions.

But officials, after learning of Nixon's intentions to make an announcement on the new program soon, said the President may go in a different direction.

While Phase 3 controls probably will be no tighter as far as food prices are concerned, the administration is expected to launch a vigorous effort to step up food supplies, thus putting downward pressure on prices. Food prices are controlled now at the wholesale and retail level.

The administration has pledged that it will make a special effort to cut food prices this year. The enormity of the problem was demonstrated again Tuesday with the release of December's Wholesale Price Index.

The bureau of Labor Statistics reported that wholesale prices went up by a sharp 1.8 per cent last month, the biggest increase since January of 1951.

Food prices were responsible for most of that increase. As for the economic-stabilization law, the administration is reported leaning to a one-year extension, with no major changes in the law. It has reasoned that the control program must be thought of as temporary, and that a permanent system would make labor and business react differently to wages and prices, and force up inflationary pressures.
